Kidnaping Prank Aftermath Is Wounding Of Students

Four Missouri Students Shot During Scuffle

Engineering Students At Missouri University Were Bent On Revenge

ONE STUDENT NOT EXPECTED TO LIVE

Scuffle Occurs As Law Student Is Seized For Head Shaving

(International News Service)
COLUMBIA, Mo., Mar. 23.—Bullets flew in a campus war which began with the prankish kidnaping of a 20-year-old cad and today four students of the University of Missouri were in hospitals, one of them on the verge of death.

The feud between the university's engineering students and the disciples of law came to a sudden climax last night when three youths were shot and wounded and a fourth was severely beaten.

Shots Are Fired
The revolver, according to police, was fired by Burns Frederick, law student of Union Star, Mo., one of the four embryo lawyers who last Saturday night abducted Mary Louise Butterfield and held the Kansas City girl in captivity until it was too late to crown her "St. Pat's Queen" at the annual engineering students' ball.

Three engineering students were shot when they attempted to administer the ancient campus custom of shaving the heads of Frederick and another law student, Max A. Patten, of Columbia.

D. Frank Muckey, of Columbia, received a bullet in the abdomen. Doctors today accorded him a slim chance to live.

Jerry F. Cebbe, of St. Louis, was shot in both legs and was in a serious condition.

Charles Love, of Jefferson City, was shot in the right leg. His wound was not serious.

Student Is Beaten
After the scuffle in which the snooting occurred, Frederick and Patten escaped from the crowd of engineering students. Their adversaries, however, overtook Frederick and forced him into an automobile and there administered a beating.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Following the thunder storm Monday morning, Pa. News's family heard toads chirping and peeping, or what ever roads do in the springtime. They were silent last evening, the chirps probably being frozen in their throats.

It didn't look much like spring yesterday afternoon, but Old Sol beamed forth effusively this morning, and the weather became quite balmy later in the day.

Students of the state teachers' college are getting an unusually long Easter vacation because of a convention of faculty members in Harrisburg.

The Shenango River is continuing to rise following the heavy rains up the valley Monday, and today it stands at eight and a half feet, having risen almost two feet since yesterday morning.

Through wind and snow a coal man's assistant rode over the Harrisburg road the other day seated on top of the truck's cab. Brrr!

Apparently the State Highway department officials are convinced

Japanese Announce Troops Will Be Removed From Shanghai At Once

(International News Service)
LONDON, Mar. 23.—The Japanese government today announced its troops would be withdrawn from the Shanghai area without awaiting the outcome of present peace negotiations. Exchange Telegraph dispatches from Tokyo stated.

The government was quoted as declaring a sufficient number of troops would remain to guard the international settlement in accordance with Japanese rights as established in treaties, but that others would be returned to Tokyo.

Mrs. Mabel Manton Wins $40,000 Suit In New York Court

Court Decided That Marjorie Rambeau Must Pay $40,000 In Alienation Suit

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Mar. 23.—Doubt whether she could ever collect the $40,000 award she won against Marjorie Rambeau, actress, in her alienation-of-affection suit today failed to dampen Mrs. Mabel Manton's feeling of elation at her court victory.

"The money is not the most important thing," Mrs. Manton, widow of Kevitt Manton, English actor, said.

"I've been trying to win this suit for seven years. I wanted to win more than anything else."

Mrs. Manton charged the actress stole the love of her husband, who since she sued him for divorce in 1926, committed suicide. It was the second action against Miss Rambeau, the first two years ago ending in disagreement.

Miss Rambeau was reported today to be in Florida with her third husband, Francis A. Gudger, retired business man of Sebring, Fla.

Graf Zeppelin Is Nearing Coast Of Brazil, Report

German Airship Wirelessly Positioned 350 Miles Off Brazilian Coast

(International News Service)
FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, Mar. 23.—The Graf Zeppelin crossed the equator today on her flight from Friedrichshafen to Pernambuco, Brazil.

At 1:30 p. m. G. M. T. (8:30 a. m. E. S. T.) the dirigible wirelessly reported its position at 1:32 south, 31:37 west, a point approximately 350 miles north of the Island of Fernando De Noronha, which lies off the coast of Brazil.

Senate Seeking Chance To Vote On Prohibition

Prominent Dry Leaders In Senate Will Welcome Test Of Vote

WANT ON RECORD BEFORE ELECTIONS

Petition Signed Urging Prompt Action By Committee Scanning Bills

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—A showdown on the prohibition issue confronted the senate today after 24 senators signed a petition urging prompt action by its judiciary committee on all proposals to repeal or modify the Eighteenth Amendment.

After circulating the petition, which four dry signed, wet leaders announced they would meet March 30 to discharge the committee from further consideration of the repeal and modification resolutions. This will bring a vote in the senate on the same issue, on which the house voted 272 to 187 last week.

Vote Is Welcomed.

Senator Borah (R) of Idaho, one of the dry leaders, announced he welcomed such a vote.

"Nobody is objecting to a vote," said Borah. "Everybody knows these wet proposals will be rejected."

Among the resolutions pending before the judiciary committee are two, by Bingham and Wagner, proposing repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. Another by Tydings would propose a new amendment making the Eighteenth Amendment inoperative in any state which ratifies the new amendment. A fourth by Barbour would make the Eighteenth Amendment inoperative in any state which permits the manufacturing or sale of intoxicating liquors.

Many Resolutions.

Other modifying resolutions before the committee would legalize 2.75 per cent beer, permit sale of malt beverages for medicinal purposes, remove all limitations from use of alcohol for medicinal purposes and limit the prohibition laws to liquors actually intoxicating in fact. The dries have a number of their measures before the committee, including the Sheppard bills, prohibiting the purchase of alcoholic liquors, banning cider and fruit juices and prohibiting liquor in private dwellings.

Japanese officials announced the party had been postponed indefinitely.

Hallville Home Burns To Ground

Loss Of $5,000 Is Sustained Near Grove City Early This Morning

GROVE CITY, Mar. 23.—Fire, which is believed to have started from an overheated stove, completely destroyed the home of Joseph Went of Hallville, just outside the borough limits of Grove City, at an early hour this morning. The loss was $5,000 partly covered by insurance.

Grove City firemen answered the alarm, but were unable to get a line of hose to the fire as it was too far outside the borough limits, and the blaze had gained such headway that hand extinguishers were useless.

The Went family was away from home when the blaze started, having gone out for the evening, and had not yet returned.

(International News Service)
PEORIA, Ill., Mar. 23.—Dr. James W. Parker, aged physician who has been missing since March 14 and is believed in the hands of kidnapers was expected home today.

Police Chief Thomas McCann, who predicted Dr. Parker's return declined to give the source of his information. Neither he nor members of the Parker family would admit ransom had been paid.

Although the physician's family and friends have been greatly concerned, authorities have not evidenced much alarm over the case. They are of the opinion Dr. Parker was seized by enemies but that he has not been slain.

Delay Decision In Tax Measure Until Thursday

House Delays Final Action Today And Considers Minor Measures

ANOTHER DRY BATTLE LOOMS

Manufacturers' Sales Tax Causing Most Difficulty In House

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—The turbulent struggle on the floor of the house over the new tax bill today was succeeded by a buttonholing campaign for votes as forces favoring and opposing the manufacturers' sales tax squared away for a decision tomorrow.

For the second time since the ways and means committee presented its $1,096,000,000 tax increase measure, the house voted a day's lull in the battle.

Scan Minor Bills.

Having adjourned yesterday with the fight over the sales tax under way, the house considered minor measures today with an agreement to take up the tax bill again tomorrow.

Democratic Leader Rainey was confident the house would accept the manufacturers' tax but his optimism was not shared by all leaders in the fight for the measure. Opponents declared emphatically that the section will be stricken out.

With consideration of this tax, the house also prepared for another battle over prohibition and an equally tense struggle over an excise on foreign oil.

Dry Serve Notice.

Rep. Cullen (D) of New York had presented his sales tax amendment to the house, legalizing 2.75 per cent beer, with a tax designed to put $350,000,000 a year into the federal treasury. Dries served notice they would seek to defeat it on a point of order.

The oil excise, favored by representatives of the oil producing states of the west and southwest and opposed by the eastern seaboard, is a part of the manufacturers' tax. It was generally admitted that if the sales tax fails the oil tax goes with it.

Opinions Differ.

A paradoxical situation was presented in this fight. Most of the representatives from Oklahoma, Arkansas and other oil-producing states fought the sales tax while favoring the oil levy.

On the other hand, most of the eastern seaboard representatives are favorable to the sales tax but fight the oil provision.

Will Rogers says:

(Special To The News)
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Mar. 23.—Has your town or city investigated this great scheme called "block-aid" that they have in New York City?

Each person with a job that lives in that block is asked to contribute a dime, quarter, or not more than a dollar per week. Now your block is so organized that each block helps itself.

It's practical and it works. Every city, town, and even country townships should organize and use it; you know absolutely where your money is going. It's helping your next door neighbor.

That's one trouble with our charities, we are always saving somebody away off, when the fellow next to us ain't eating. Same thing wrong with the missionaries; they will save anybody if he is far enough away, and don't speak our language.

This is a time when I don't care where you live you can't throw a rock without hitting somebody that needs help worse than you do.

Here is a scheme where charity begins at home.

Yours,

Will Rogers.

REPORT JOB CAMPAIGN BRINGS GOOD RESULTS

Incomplete returns from the city-wide canvass conducted Monday and Tuesday under the auspices of the American Legion, in an effort to secure jobs for the unemployed, show a splendid result, according to R. Loy Boyd, general chairman of the Unemployment committee and Edward W. Beadel, who was chairman of the canvass.

It is not possible as yet to state just what the amount of work will show, nor how many jobs it will entail, but it is known that the amount of the work will amount to a considerable sum. A committee meeting will be called to sort the cards according to districts and a report made later.

Eleven more jobs were reported today by Garland Crites, in charge of the Unemployment headquarters at 326 Neshannock avenue. This brings the grand total up to nearly 150 jobs since the drive started and each day sees requests for men coming in.

The bureau is now equipped to handle any requests for work, whether it is highly skilled or unskilled. Anything from whitewashing a fence to designing an interior frieze, or from shoveling coal to building a chimney can be handled by skilled men. Their rates for the work have been sharply reduced for ninety days and to Cantorize the idea, "now's the time to get things done."

Two Men And Women Burned To Death As Auto Figures In Crash

ACCIDENT OCCURS NEAR WEST CHESTER

(International News Service)
WEST CHESTER, Pa., Mar. 23.—A woman and two men were burned to death today when their automobile collided with another machine three miles west of here.

One of the victims was tentatively identified as Leon Bryan, of Philadelphia. His companions, a man and a woman, were not immediately identified. Both were burned beyond recognition.

The automobile in which they were riding overturned and burst into flames following collision with a machine operated by Charles H. Conover of Atglen. Conover was only slightly injured.

Certified Truck Operators Association Here Files Complaint At Harrisburg

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Mar. 23.—The New Castle Certified Truck Operators Association, of 21 West South street, New Castle, today filed seven formal complaints with the Public Service Commission against truck operators in New Castle whom they allege are transporting merchandise without proper certificates.

Those named in the complaints, all of New Castle, were: W. C. Moore, 112 South Mulberry St.; John A. Jones, 502 Bell ave.; William and C. B. Randall, 241 1-2 West Grant St.; C. F. Finkle, 316 Norwood ave.; William Gould, 104 N. Walnut St.; F. M. Adams, 424 Hilderer ave.; and Albert Gabriel, 1307 S. Jefferson street.

The complaints, filed by former public service commissioner Charles H. Young, counsel for the association, were signed by Harry L. Gormley, president, and Ray A. Long, secretary.

School Board Meets Tonight

Members of the New Castle School board will meet in special session tonight at 7:30 in the Administration building on East street. It is presumed that they will meet with the committee appointed at the meeting of the citizens in the Senior high school on Monday evening.

HELEN KELLER ILL

SPEAKING DATE OFF

BEAVER FALLS, Mar. 23.—Because of illness Miss Helen Keller, famous deaf and blind woman, will be unable to fill her engagement here April 3 to open the week for the blind. Sherman L. ### Southern Storm Damage Will Run To Five Million

Estimate 312 Persons Killed, And Over 1,000 Injured In Storm

FIVE SOUTHERN STATES SUFFER

Workmen Begin Gigantic Task Of Clearing Away Debris

(International News Service)

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Mar. 23.—Amid the bleak ruins left by the southland's worst storm disaster crews of rescue workers labored today to provide for thousands of homeless and prevent the spread of starvation and pestilence.

From far flung sections of five southern states, which were ravaged by a series of tornadoes, came new reports of deaths and injuries. The toll of fatalities stood at 312 and estimates of the injured exceeded one thousand. Property damage was estimated to exceed $5,000,000.

2,000 Lose Homes

Approximately 2,000 men, women and children, reports indicated, lost their homes in the ferocious twisters which swirled over great sections of Alabama, Georgia, Tennessee, Kentucky and South Carolina.

In the centers of suffering created by the catastrophe all permanent and temporary hospitals were jammed with the injured. Corpses of doctors and nurses incessantly carried on their merciful work of saving lives and easing pain.

Some towns, virtually obliterated by the cyclones, were patrolled by

Wealthy Coast Aviator Killed

Report Death Of Winfield Hale, Wealthy Sportsman-Flier In Ecuador

(International News Service)

WALNUT CREEK, Cal., Mar. 23.—Winfield Hale, wealthy Walnut Creek sportsman-aviator, on a solo flight to South America, was killed when his plane crashed in Ecuador, it was learned here today from his wife, Mrs. Idolene Hale.

"I received a cable early this morning," Mrs. Hale said, "that my husband's plane crashed into the waters of a small bay off the Ecuadorian coast. His body was later recovered. It will be brought here."

Hale left Oakland in February after touching at Hermosillo, Sonora, he continued southward on a leisurely rate finally reaching Panama where he had his plane overhauled. He intended going as far south as Buenos Aires.

Schwarzkopf's statement concluded with a report on the "carrier pigeon" clues as follows:

"We have no proof one way or the other that the note found on the dead pigeon at East Stroudsburg, Pa., was a prank of a young boy. There is no significance attached to this note of any value to the solution of this case."

"Concerning the note found on a pigeon at South Kent, Conn., we have nothing to report other than the fact that this report, unverified by pigeon or note, was received at this office."

GEORGIA VOTERS TO SHOW TREND IN SOUTH

Roosevelt Faces Test In Georgia

Georgia Democrats Will Go To Polls Today In Important Primary

GARNER BOOSTER HEADS OPPOSITION

(International News Service) ATLANTA, Ga., Mar. 23.—Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, of New York, today encountered his first southern test in the race for the Democratic presidential nomination as Democrats of Georgia went to the polls in a preferential primary election.

Opposed to New York's chief executive is Judge G. H. Howard, of Atlanta, who leads the state's political forces advocating the nomination of Speaker John N. Garner, of Texas. If victorious, Judge Howard has promised to deliver his national convention delegates to the Garner cause.

Under Georgia law, primary votes are tabulated according to counties and the candidate receiving the plurality in each county is entitled to name the delegates of that county to the state party convention. The Democratic state convention meets April 6 to select Georgia's 28 representatives at the National convention in Chicago in June.

Hitch Hiker Thinks He Saw Kidnaped Baby On March 17

(International News Service) DOVER, O., Mar. 23.—A Dover man who recently hitch-hiked through Pennsylvania is "certain" he saw the kidnaped Lindbergh baby with three men and a woman in a large sedan on a muddy by-road near Erie, Pa., on March 17, police said today.

The hitch-hiker, whom police said they believed to be reliable, but whose name they declined to divulge, told Police Chief Frank H. Javen that he believes he saw the child while he was helping the men push their large sedan which was mired on the by-road a short distance from Northeast, Pa.

While he was assisting the men to push their car out of the mud, the Dover man related, the door of the back seat was opened and inside was a woman holding a baby which resembled the missing son of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh.

On the floor of the car, the Dover man told Javen, was a set of New Jersey license plates. The automobile's license racks, however, displayed Pennsylvania tags.

Asked why they were traveling over the muddy side road, one of the three men answered curtly: "We have a good reason," the hitch-hiker reported. He said that one of the men said they were en route to a cottage near Lake Champlain, "where we have a cottage."

The hitch-hiker said he was so impressed by the resemblance of the child in the automobile to the missing Lindbergh baby that he has written Captain H. Norman Schwarzkopf of the instance.

Weather conditions today seemed a little more in tune with the Easter season, which is scheduled to arrive at the close of the present week.

The old Martin Gantz school building on North Jefferson street is looking more like a wreck every day. It seems to Pa New that the time is fast arriving when this building should be torn down.

Ought to be about time that contracts were being considered for the improvement of the New Castle to New Wilmington road, via Highland Heights as this is one of the highways announced sometime ago in the plan for improvement this summer.

companies of the National Guard to maintain order and prevent looting.

Alabama Hardest Hit

Of the five states stricken by the tornadoes Alabama suffered the greatest devastation and loss of life. Latest reports today showed 220 dead in that state alone. Of the 25 Alabama communities visited by the storms, three were virtually wiped off the map. These were Northport, where the death toll attained 28; Cullman, with a fatality list of 18, and Marion where 18 lives were lost.

Georgia reported 34 known dead and scores injured in seven towns. The Georgia tornado wrought its greatest havoc in the northern communities of Dalton, Cartersville, Rome and Athens. The furious winds also attacked Atlanta, Decatur and Milledgeville, but with diminished force. In each of these three cities one death occurred.

Five In Family Killed

Tennessee's count of the dead reached 17. Six towns in that state were in the path of the twisters. Near Pulaski, Tenn., five members of one family were crushed to death when their home collapsed.

The tornadoes had nearly spent their force by the time they struck parts of Kentucky and South Carolina. Two were killed in each of these states.

Relief Efforts Hampered

Bitter March winds, whipping over desolate villages razed by powerful twisters Monday night and Tuesday, hampered efforts of Red Cross workers to provide shelter, sufficient clothing and food for the refugees.

Relief work was concentrated in Alabama, where 257 persons died before the fury of the elements that demolished sections of 20 villages.

Gov. B. M. Miller urged Alabamians whose homes were not ravaged by the storms to aid their less fortunate neighbors by making contributions of food and clothing to Red Cross relief bases for distribution among the stricken.

While no definite check was possible, it was believed almost 3,000 persons were injured in the twisting winds. Hundreds were in hospitals and relief bases.

Many of the homeless, estimated total 10,000 were being evacuated from rural districts into towns and villages where supplies were concentrated.

Three companies of National guardsmen at Northport aided relief work in the section where 29 persons were killed and hundreds injured.

Buildings of the University of Alabama at Tuscaloosa across the Warrior river from Northport were pressed into service as hospitals.

MACHINES COLLIDE

AT TRAFFIC LIGHT

Alfred Walker of 228 Smithfield street, reported Tuesday that he was enroute south on North Mill street at north and stopped for the red traffic light and made a turn to the left on the green light and as he did so, his machine, a truck of the Cripps Hardware company, collided with the car of Howard Phillips, being driven north. Both machines were damaged.

Free Shorthand Practice Classes To Be Given At Y

Senior High Teacher Will Be In Charge; Starts Next Wednesday

A review shorthand class will be conducted at the Y. W. C. A. beginning next Wednesday, March 30 at 7:00 p. m., with Miss Florence Jenkins, shorthand teacher at the New Castle senior high school in charge.

Miss Jenkins has offered her services as instructor in a class for girls who have studied the Gregg system but who have not been able to keep up their shorthand practice.

A series of 10 lessons on Wednesday nights from 7:00 to 8:00 p. m. at the Y. W. C. A. is designed for this purpose. No fee will be charged.

Arrangements were made by the Education committee of which Mrs. W. W. Smith is chairman and Mrs. James Blackwood, Miss Dell Davidson and Mrs. J. E. Bryan are members.

'Bunny Mail' Light In Postmen's Sacks

Easter "Greeters" Minus From Daily Stacks; None Are Noticed

Oh where Oh where! have these Easter greeting cards gone? Wandering post office clerks reported today that as far as they were noticed, few greeting messages whatever have passed thru the mails. Of course, they may have missed one or two, but still the hawk of postal dispatchers don't very often miss seeing things.

One clerk, busy working the routine mail, recalled one year when reserve tables were shoved into the mailing section to hold the heavy batch of "greeters."

Deaths of the Day

S. Landis Funeral. Funeral services for Samuel Landis, Civil war veteran, and member of the Boardhead regiment, were held Tuesday afternoon from the home in Mercer with Rev. Homer Davis and Rev. Small officiating.

Sons of Veterans of the Mercer Post acted as pallbearers and military honors were predominant in the committal service.

Mrs. Valley Funeral. Funeral services for Mrs. Agnes Valley were held this morning at nine o'clock from St. Margaret's church with Rev. Fr. A. P. Scholz reading the requiem mass. Joseph Diffley was the soloist.

The church was filled with sorrowing friends and relatives, with members of the street force of the city attending in a body.

Interment was made in St. Mary's cemetery. Pallbearers were Pat McCart, Patrick Scanlon, George McCart, James McCart, Patrick McCart and George McCart.

Mrs. Miller Funeral. Funeral services for Mrs. Laura Gorley Miller, who died at Elizabethtown, were held Tuesday afternoon from the Mahoning funeral home with Rev. W. W. Smith, pastor of the Madison avenue Christian church, officiating.

Interment was made in Greenwood cemetery with Charles Gorley Jr., Claire Gorley, Harry Penrose, Henry Penrose, Cliff Gorley and Claire Bagnell as pallbearers.

Erase Harmony Line Action On Commission Books

Public Service Commission Docket Cleared Of All Harmony Line Matters

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 23.—Abandonment of the old Pittsburgh, Mars and Butler Railway company thru a rule of the United States District court granted Maurice Scharff, the receiver, today had cleared the docket of the Public Service Commission of a long-standing complaint against the company.

The commission had cited the electric interurban line for failure to render the proper standard of service over its route. Today, the docket was marked officially "closed" as the rail line has been abandoned and replaced by bus service.

Scharff was granted permission to discontinue the line although scores of passengers appeared in federal court to oppose the abandonment. The receiver showed the line was hopelessly "in the red," in need of repair, and that it was impossible to borrow funds because traffic had decreased to such an extent that the line did not even earn operating expenses.

Doctor Arrested For Driving His Car While Drunk

ALTOONA, Pa., Mar. 23.—Dr. Joseph P. Jones of Mt. Pleasant, Pa., was placed under arrest on a charge of driving while intoxicated today shortly after his car collided with a machine driven by F. L. Edwards of Columbus, O.

Edwards escaped with minor bruises. The physician suffered slight injuries. The accident occurred on the eastern slope of Cresson mountain.

MERCER COUNTY SEEKS MORE ROADS

MERCER, Pa., Mar. 23.—The commissioners are in Harrisburg in conference with officers of the State Highway commission. The construction of the remaining few miles of the county road program is up for decision at this meeting, when state and federal government aid will be asked.

As a result of the money for road building given by the federal government in Pennsylvania in 1931, the commissioners were able to secure over 20 miles of road without a cent of expense to the county. Roads costing less than $30,000 at that time were built entirely by the state, which has charge of the supervision of federal and state funds.

PARENTS OF LOCAL RESIDENTS CELEBRATE

Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. McKissick celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at the Homewood Methodist church Tuesday, March 22.

A host of relatives and friends attended from New Castle, Pittsburgh, Erie, Cleveland, Beaver Valley, Butler and district, Ellwood City and Edinboro.

At 1 o'clock the wedding march was played by Miss Elizabeth Driggs, followed immediately by the ring ceremony in the auditorium. Standing with the bride and groom were Mrs. Flora Hoover of New Castle and Jefferson Bader of Slippery Rock, who served as bridesmaid and best man at the ceremony 50 years ago. The ceremony was first performed at the home of the bride's parents, J. C. and Cordelia Thompson at Isle, Butler county, by Rev. H. C. McKinney officiating with the ring ceremony.

Rev. L. O. Douds of the Hays church of Pittsburgh, who was pastor of the Homewood church 22 years ago, officiated yesterday. After the ceremony was performed the friends extended congratulations and then retired to the dining room where a delicious chicken dinner had been prepared by two daughters and the daughter-in-law and was served by granddaughters of the wedded couple. The table was very attractively decorated with lighted golden candles in pretty golden holders. A beautiful wedding cake was set in the center.

After dinner the party assembled in the auditorium where a delightful program was presented, including readings by Mrs. James Freed, an aged neighbor, Misses Ethel Freed and Frances McKissick and Masters John Junion Driggs, Cecil and Clinton Freed, and musical selections by William Morrison, Thelma, Roberta and Florence McKissick, Elizabeth Driggs, Ethel, Robert, Cecil and Clinton Freed, John Junion Driggs. An address was delivered by Rev. Douds.

The couple was at home to their friends after 7 o'clock.

To this union 50 years ago, four children were born, the living being Mrs. Cordelia Driggs of New Castle, William McKissick of Beaver Falls, Mrs. Rosie Freed of Wampum, Thompson McKissick, another son, deceased. There are 14 grandchildren—Elizabeth and John Junion Driggs, Thelma, Roberta, Florence and Frances McKissick, Vesta Werner, Thelma, Geraldine, Robert, Glenn, Ethel, Clinton and Cecil Freed. There is one great-grandchild, Thomas Werner.

A shower of gifts, including baskets and bouquets of lovely yellow flowers, congratulatory cards, gold and silver from different points.

BRIDGE AND REVUE PLANNED FOR CLUB

The Woman's club committees are fast completing plans for the annual benefit bridge and style revue which will be held Tuesday, March 29, on the second floor of the New Castle Dry Goods store.

Mrs. R. G. Maxwell is general chairman of arrangements, Mrs. W. A. Pond is the ticket chairman, Mrs. Walter Brahm is in charge of the mannequins, Mrs. F. P. Urey is floor committee chairman and Mrs. W. H. Hanger is chairman of publicity.

As the guests arrive they will be greeted by the reception committee, which will include the officers of the club: Mrs. A. B. Street, Mrs. J. J. Madigan, Mrs. C. F. Kirk, Mrs. Eliah Kaplan, Mrs. T. F. Stryker, Miss Philip Nicklin and Mrs. Frank Woods.

Many clubs are making table reservations for their entire membership and members of out of town woman's clubs have also sent in for tables. These desiring tables for their parties will make reservations through Mrs. F. F. Urey.

The music for the evening will be furnished by the New Castle Dry Goods Co. orchestra.

SURPRISE SHOWER FOR RECENT BRIDE

The home of Martha Wardman, Lathrop street, was the scene of gay festivities Tuesday evening when thirty three employees of the Bell Telephone company assembled as a surprise to Mrs. Iva Botham Welker, a bride of recent date.

Miss Ethel Bixler and Miss Alice Wardman were associate hostesses with Miss Wardman.

Bridge and five hundred formed the diversions of the evening and at conclusion of play prizes were awarded Betty Isaacs, May Albini, Twila Kaufmann and Mrs. Clara Molesworth.

The bride was presented with a number of beautiful gifts to be used in her new home.

Tones of yellow and white were carried out in the appointments when the hostess assisted by Mrs. Wardman and Marian Wardman, served refreshments.

Sisterhood Sabbath

The Temple Israel Sisterhood will observe Sisterhood Sabbath on Friday evening, March 25. This is celebrated by all affiliated Sisterhoods and at this time Mrs. Ferdinand T. Weil of Pittsburgh, the guest speaker on this occasion, will have a message of interest for all.

Members of Sisterhood Religion committee will conduct the service.

TUESDAY KENSINGTON LUNCHEON SUCCESS

Mrs. W. H. Williams and Mrs. Paul D. Welser proved themselves perfect hostesses when on Tuesday they delightfully entertained the Tuesday Kensington at a beautifully appointed luncheon in the green room of the Y. W. C. A. The event was in the nature of an Easter party and a splendid representation of the club attended the festivities of the afternoon.

The long table at which the guests were seated was a picture of beauty in its appointments with a color scheme of yellow and white carried out, was made more attractive with the beautiful spring blossoms that centered the board.

Special guests included Mrs. F. B. McAllister of Youngstown, Mrs. W. H. Lewis and Mrs. Sara Hickok. At the close of serving a delicious menu an unusual and unique program of amusements arranged by the hostesses, kept the club in a merry mood throughout the balance of the afternoon.

Each member tried her luck in the fish pond and was rewarded with prizes that caused roars of laughter. Not one caught a sucker but it was left for Mrs. McAllister to land the big fish, an Easter hat which was a fearfully, wonderfully and indescribably constructed bit of art.

In the egg rolling contest Mrs. W. H. Lewis and Mrs. E. U. Snyder won favors and Mrs. J. E. Roberts was held by Temple Israel Sisterhood Tuesday evening when a "Dutch Supper" was served in the vestry room at 6 o'clock. This was given under the auspices of Team No. 1 with Mrs. J. F. Perelman, chairman, Mrs. Monte Blau, Mrs. Nate Love, Mrs. Abe Gomick and Mrs. Ted Marlin in charge.

At the conclusion of the feature, the guests, number many, turned their attention to contests in cards which occupied the balance of the evening.

D. U. V. Meeting

Mrs. Lucy Pettit presided at the regular business meeting of the Eliza Winans McBride Tent 20 of the Daughters of Union Veterans Tuesday evening, when the members met in the city building and after routine matters were discussed, Mrs. Lillian Grandy of Beaver Falls was initiated as a new member.

Plans were made for a dinner on March 31 in the Woodman Hall and for a bake sale on April 9. The after business hours were spent at card and domino with Mrs. Tilly Hartman and Mrs. Martha Fox in charge of the tables. Prizes were won by William Marsh, J. Herburg, Mrs. G. Stewart and Mrs. Cynthia Frise for five hundred and the bingo prizes were won by Mrs. O. Heagan and Carrie Graham, and the special prize of the evening by Mrs. Fronie Davis.

Mrs. Edith Hawn and Mrs. Mary Kurtz were in charge of the refreshments which were served at the close of play.

Mrs. John Kenenah Hostess

The B. B. club members gathered in the home of Mrs. John Kenenah on Delaware avenue Tuesday evening for a social time. Games and various contests were indulged in during the leisure period, and following the entertainment a delicious lunch was served. The hostess was assisted by her daughter, Miss Mary Emma Kenenah. Tones of the season prevailed in the appointments.

In two weeks Mrs. John Howell of North Jefferson street will receive the club.

R-Nu Club

The R-Nu Club members met Tuesday evening at the residence of Mary Piesch on Ashland avenue. An informal social time was enjoyed and before departing at a late hour the hostess served a delicious lunch. The seasons tones prevailed in the appointments.

In two weeks, Miss Frances Cwynner of Wilder avenue will have club.

ANNIVERSARY PROGRAM FOR LOCAL HADASSAH

The New Castle chapter of Hadassah celebrated the twentieth anniversary of the founding of Hadassah by Henrietta Axold, Tuesday evening in the Beth Shalom Center, and in addition paid honor to the first anniversary of the local chapter, as well as the seventh anniversary of the Hebrew University in Palestine, which has just graduated its first class of young men.

A nice sum was realized when the milk bottle bags were opened, this to be used in the welfare fund.

The Purim dance committee reported most favorably on the program of plans for the annual ball at the Field Club.

Mrs. L. G. Groden had an interesting paper on "The Twentieth Birthday".

The dance committee will meet Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. L. F. Kohn, Moody avenue.

The social part of the evening was in the hands of Mrs. N. Love, Mrs. Ellis Levine, Mrs. Jennie Levine, Mrs. Sam Levine, Mrs. N. Lerner, Mrs. J. Rosen and Mrs. S. Kline.

DUTCH SUPPER AT TEMPLE ISRAEL

MAKE UNEMPLOYMENT A LOCAL PROBLEM

HERE are two communities that have solved their unemployment problem by the simple expedient of removing it. Longdale, Cal., and Pontiac, Miss., report to war against depression headquarters in New York that all their unemployed have been provided with jobs.

Of course these small communities didn't have many unemployed. Longdale had seventeen and Pontiac had two. But that is about in proportion to the numbers of unemployed in larger cities. These two cities had problems that were as grave to them as are the problems in larger communities.

Here is illustrated the whole lesson of united action for employment as the strategy of the war against depression.

Instead of looking at eight millions of unemployed, each community looks only at its own problem. Instead of one colossal problem, there are just thousands of small problems.

As small problems they are being met magnificently. Each city has the brains, the resources, the wealth and the determination to find jobs for its own unemployed.

Give a job today to an unemployed worker. Help solve our own problem, while all over the nation the people of other cities are doing likewise.

THE MACHINE PROBLEM

The starting of a government building program in Canada which is to be carried on mostly with hand labor was celebrated by workers who with much ceremony buried a toy steam shovel to symbolize escape from the machine age.

This machine age, noted for the lightening of human labor, has brought one of the big problems of the time, which will have to be solved along with the problem of stabilizing employment. Resentment of the machine grows because its manufacture has not as yet opened new opportunities for the workers it has displaced in other lines. Industry must look for a satisfactory means of striking a balance that can leave no ground for such complaints as heard in the industrial countries.

TO COMPLETE MARSH FILL

The State Department of Highways has announced that the Conneaut marsh fill on the new Perry highway will be resumed at an early date and that trestles will be used to carry the highway over the most troublesome portion of the swamp.

This word from Secretary of Highways Samuel S. Lewis, comes as welcome news to residents of this section and many others, since it means the early completion of the historic Erie to Pittsburgh route.

Trouble with the proposed fill was persistent and serious when the road-building reached the marsh more than a year ago. Tons of earth were dumped into the maw of the swamp and promptly swallowed up; or, if the swallowing process did not take place immediately, it would sooner or later, especially on one short section that offered the most difficulty. This sort of thing continued until it was deemed advisable by Governor Pinchot to stop the filling process. A complete investigation commission of engineers was appointed.

These engineers, after carefully studying the situation, recommended continuance of the work. And as a result, the resumption of the crossing construction will be undertaken.

The plan of construction, as proposed now, appears entirely feasible and should enable the state to finish the stretch through the marsh this summer.

MIRROR REAL AMERICA

Turning from the city newspapers to the small town press exchanges that come to the editor's desk, is like stepping from the slums, full of vile, into an old-fashioned garden sweet with lavender and thyme and the scent of perennial flowers. The pages of the big dailies are so full of murder, thievery, immorality and selfishness, that the better news is obscured by these glaring shatterings of the Decalogue. One puts the papers aside with a feeling of depression and heartache that the world is so full of terrible and unhappy things.

Then picking up the papers that record the happenings of the little cities around us in New Castle, one gains renewed faith in life. Here are set forth some of that which uplifts a community—the activities of the business men, the church news, the civic good accomplished by the women, school items, the happy social gatherings of the people, the marriages, births, and deaths, farmers items, and all the thousand and one daily occurrences that make up the simple annals of the great common people, who are really the foundation of this broad country of ours.

Scandals are seldom published in the country newspapers, but if it so happens that decency demands it, the uglier details are omitted, or given a touch that is wisely different from the unfeeling publicity of the city press. The offenders may be neighbors, or people we have rubbed elbows with all our lives. They are real human beings to their home town paper, while to the great city dailies they are merely grains of a sort that are ground out hourly in their news mill.

Sometimes people speak lightly of the country newspaper, but it is one of the most potent and uplifting factors in our national existence. The great dailies have their mission, but their scope is too big to touch very closely the inner things of life.

Bring Along Your Dog
He'll Introduce You!
What Is He Like?

By MARSHALL MASLIN

Bring along your dog when you come to make a visit—and if I were wise enough I could tell you about you—just by looking at him.

You don't believe it? But it's true. I could do it—almost any fool who took the trouble could do it. Certainly they could. Anybody that knows dogs could tell your character by your dog.

They'd look at the dog's tail. At his eyes. At his mouth. They'd notice his breed. His wriggle. His manner toward you. Toward them. Towards the whole round world. . . . And they'd know all that is really important about you.

Some people look at tea leaves. Others shuffle the cards and deal them out. And others study handwriting. And still others read the lines in your palm of count the letters in your name. . . . Give me a dog! That's easier, surer.

If your dog wiggles all up and down his spine and wags his tail at a terrific rate and gives little ecstatic barks when you speak to him, then I'll know he loves you and that you love him. I'll know that much about you.

If he watches you every instant and keeps close to your heels and stares wistfully out at other dogs and does not follow his questing nose around my yard. I know that you want him to be your dog and only yours. You will not share him, not you. It pleases you to have him so obedient, to have another living creature so contained.

If he cringes when I bend to stroke his glossy back, someone has beaten him, someone has hurt his gracious spirit. Perhaps not you, but someone.

If you talk about his breed—about his pedigree—about his ribbons and his championships—and never once speak glowing praise of his courage and his sweetness and his keen intelligence—what then? What will THAT reveal of you?

But if he is noble—if he is grand—if he is friendly and sweetly dignified and gallant in all his ways—if he's all that every dog should be and fair with other people but affectionately adoring to you alone—then other men may damn you and other men may say you've done this and failed most utterly to do that other, but I'll know better! I'll have seen you with your dog and read your fortune in his fearless face. And surely that's enough for any man to know about you.

THE WAY OF MAN

Time was he vowed he'd die for her; Climb mountains gaunt and high for her;

Around the world he'd fly for her, Devotion to express, But now he shakes his head at her, His cheeks turn flaming red at her, Because she wants a dress.

"Have mercy on me, please!" he cries, "Does money grow on trees?" he sighs, And when her bills he sees he'll rise To call them most absurd.

Still if she bade him die for her, Or round the world to fly for her, Or scale some mountain high for her, He'd try to keep his word.

The promises once made to her, The compliments he paid to her, May seem worn out and frayed to her, Those death-defying tasks Which years ago he vowed to do, And begged to be allowed to do, And said that he'd be proud to do, Are risks she never asks.

Strange man who at her beck and call Would gladly risk his neck and all, But asked to write a check, though small.

For hats and coats and beads, Instead of new attire for her, Prefers to go through fire for her, And prove his deep desire for her, By feats she never needs. (Copyright, 1932, Edgar A. Guest.)

ARITHMETIC

As a parent you are living in a period when it comes easy to ensure your children for their extravagance.

Who was to blame for their liberal spending which you now seek to curtail?

Do not children adopt their habits largely from parents?

You realize the change in matters of financial import—they do not.

When money was easy with you did you adopt a saving habit?

If you scold and growl about their extravagance you think they should at least listen and heed your expressed wishes.

But they have not been out in the business world—they think you are "an old crank" because their experience is lacking.

You have encouraged them to make friends among the well-to-do. You have been willing to help them keep up with their neighbors.

Now you know why you cannot go on the same scale of luxury or perhaps comfort, merely that you have followed in their time.

But they can't understand it. Instead of scolding, raving and ranting, show them the figures, what is coming in and what must go out for necessities—they understand arithmetic.

German Election Is Declared Assurance Of New Stability

Hindenburg's Good Showing And Prospects In Second Election Accepted As Evidence That Central Europe Favors Peace Policies

American comment on Hindenburg's showing in the recent German election reveals practically unanimous opinion that world peace has received strong support and that policies favorable to stability have won in the face of radical agitation. Although the President of the republic failed to obtain a majority, confidence in his success in the second election is expressed.

"A victory for Hindenburg on April 10 will make for Europe's peace and he is picked as a winner," says the ROCK ISLAND ARGUS, while the OKLAHOMA CITY OKLAHOMAN remarks that "the heart of the German people pulsates for peace," and the OAKLAND TRIBUNE sees an advance toward "settling an argument which has kept the country stirred for some months, and has caused all Europe to wonder what change would be made in the German foreign policies." The LINCOLN STATE JOURNAL believes that "on his election may rest the peace of Europe."

"The electors turned to the President," declares the NEW YORK SUN, "as to the shadow of a great rock in a weary land. Whether Hitlerism has actually attained its peak as some suppose cannot now be determined. What is clear is that it has fallen far short of its promises and expectations. The President's plurality of 7,333,165 over Hitler is impressive abroad; it should be even more impressive in Germany. The Government of Chancellor Brüning is left in a position far stronger than that which it occupied at the time when the President was told he must cast it aside or lose the votes of a united opposition. It was characteristic of the soldier-statesman that he should refuse to sacrifice the Chancellor in Germany. The personal dependability which has brought him a new vote of confidence from the people."

"The great vote given President von Hindenburg," according to the ATLANTA JOURNAL, "shows that the public mind of present-day Germany is steered by wisdom and not by passion. The Journalist concludes: 'There is no more remarkable public figure in the world today than the eighty-four-year-old soldier-statesman who first was put forward for the Presidency by groups who desired the Republic's overthrow, but who has proved, amid all storms, its most powerful friend. His career is an heroic illustration of duty unswerving and intelligently done.'"

"The election of Hitler," adds the SPRINGFIELD (MASS.) UNION, "would perhaps be the prelude to a complete change in government with the Nazis assuming control of the Reichstag. This would result in a government pledged to a motorist, who finally stopped entirely and asked, 'Would it be requiring too much of you to ask you to outline your plans?'"

"The result in itself speaks volumes for German good faith toward the other peoples," avers the MINNEAPOLIS JOURNAL, while the OMAHA WORLD-HERALD exclaims: "The German people stand fast; stand fast with Hindenburg. The venerable champion of the German republic and of German democracy commands a following 300 per cent greater than that of Thaelman, the Communist, and 65 per cent larger than Thaelman, the militant Throats. Despite their numerous losses the German people make their choice for the methods of peace and good will, for the preservation of their existing institutions. They prefer to endure the ills they have rather than flee to those they know not of."

"His triumph was a personal one," thinks the NEW ORLEANS TIMES-PICAYUNE, "in the sense that no other German leader could have won the united support of so many German voters under the conditions now prevailing in the Fatherland. But his victory was also, we hope, a triumph for the cause which he represented and which is greater than any individual. If his election is confirmed by the April balloting and he survives vigorous to the end of his new term, the German people make their choice for the methods of peace and good will, for the preservation of their existing institutions. They prefer to endure the ills they have rather than flee to those they know not of."

Despite their numerous losses the German people make their choice for the methods of peace and good will, for the preservation of their existing institutions. They prefer to endure the ills they have rather than flee to those they know not of."

"The situation was a great deal like that existing in the business world—an over-abundance of food and clothing, yet people hungry and poorly clad. The Society for Crippled Children will co-ordinate the injured child and the remedial forces."

SCHOOL SITUATION

March 22, 1932
"The Homestead," 212 North Mill Street,
New Castle, Pa.

Editor, New Castle News:
Dear Sir:

Let an appeal be made to all the citizens of New Castle for voluntary contributions towards a separate fund, to enable all the present departments of public school service in jeopardy, remain open and operate.

It seems to me very unjust to ask or expect the school teachers alone to contribute out of their salaries or income ALL of the funds for this particular purpose.

No one could expect or would ask the lawyers to pay a portion of the court house operating expenses such as janitors' wages, coal and light bills and other costs properly belonging to the public at large.

No one would consider it fair or just to the policemen or firemen to ask them to contribute alone, sufficient funds out of their salaries or wages, to pay the cost of light, heat and wages in order to keep other city employees at work.

The services and needs of the public schools are by right and law a public charge and should be supported entirely either by sufficient taxation or voluntary contributions solicited and taken from all the citizens.

To make conspicuous a request alone from school teachers to contribute to this present need is to ask the school teachers to assume in a wholesale manner the duty and burden which properly belongs to, and should be assumed by, the public at large.

I am not a school teacher nor the daughter of a school teacher, neither did I marry a school professor or a school superintendent. I am merely a long time resident of the city of New Castle, a long time fairly heavy taxpayer, and wish to enter my personal protest against this unfair and unjust request which seems to have for its principal object the placing upon the school teachers and those directly serving or working in and for the public schools an unjust special assessment made all the more conspicuous and misleading by calling it a voluntary contribution.

I am sure the school teachers have and are contributing generously to all worthy needs as far as their incomes and personal requirements will allow, and to endeavor to place this additional financial burden on the shoulder of the school teachers, which properly belongs to the entire community, is neither fair, wise nor necessary.

Respectfully and sincerely,
SARA DANA FALLS DAVIS.

Public Hearings On New Banking Bill Commenced

Battle Of Wall Street To Prevent General Revision Starts Today

OPPOSITION TO BILL IS KEEN

Prominent Economists And Bankers Called By Senate Committee

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—The battle of Wall street to prevent a complete revision of Federal Reserve banking laws opened today when the senate banking and currency committee started public hearings on the new Glass bill.

The measure, designed to stamp out use of federal credits for speculative purposes and to aid depositors of closed banks, was attacked by some banking interests as deflationary. There was general approval of the section creating a $700,000,000 federal liquidation corporation, to purchase the assets of closed banks so depositors can be paid in part their savings.

Keen Opposition.
The opposition was directed against two features, called deflationary.
One of these would allow the Federal Reserve board to suspend 15-day unsecured loans to any member bank for violation of its banking regulations. The other would create an "open market committee" to regulate purchase of securities by all member banks in the open market.
The latter provision would strip member banks of their present power to "buy as they please."

The anti-speculation provisions were well received. Among other things, the bill would prohibit direct or indirect loans to investment bankers, brokers, members of the stock exchange or dealers in securities.

Would Limit Loans.
It would limit collateral loans for speculative purposes by any member bank to ten per cent of its outstanding capital stock and surplus, while fixing a definite maximum for all classes of collateral loans. The discount privileges would be denied, too, on all speculative loans.

The bill became involved in controversies when Senators Glass (D) of Virginia, former secretary of the treasury, insisted upon including strict penalties for violation of the anti-speculative provisions. Many banking concerns protested against the penalties.

The hearings, opening today, must be concluded by March 30, under an order from the full committee. This limitation was agreed upon in order to give congress an opportunity to pass the bill before adjournment.

Witnesses Summoned.
If the opposition of bankers grows too strong the section aiding depositors of closed banks may be separated from the rest of the bill and enacted as a distinct measure. It was certain to pass without serious opposition.

The witnesses summoned for the opening session were Allan M. Hope, president of the Investment Bankers association; Harry J. Hawes, president of the American Banking association; Dr. George W. Edwards, economist of New York university, and Edward Litchworth of Buffalo, N. Y., representing the Marine-Midland bank.

Major J. A. Smith Goes To Panama

Major John A. Smith, Judge Advocate General's department, of New Castle, has received orders for transfer to the Panama Canal department upon completion of present course in the Command and General Staff school, Fort Leavenworth, Kans. He is scheduled to sail from New York to Panama on an Army transport September 2, 1932.

Notice: If the hidden dollars will return no questions will be asked.—

RUINS SEARCHED FOR DEAD IN SOUTHERN TORNADO

Relief workers are seen searching all remains of a house for victims at Columbiana, Ala., following tornado. Several hundred were killed and injured in tornadoes that swept through southern states.

Afternoon Stir At Jail Only Another Crowd Of Visitors Paying Call

"Visitors' day" around the Lawrence county jail, Court street, creates about as much stir outside the jail walls as it does among the waiting prisoners inside.

The popularity of the courthouse drive suddenly assumed on Tuesday afternoon about 2 o'clock was nothing but a weekly occurrence, for within the past few months jail authorities have become accustomed to larger crowds. The throng oftentimes remains until around after 4.
Outside the jail entrance are gathered the relatives and close friends, and at the stroke of 2 they are admitted to an anteroom inside.
They tug along their heavy bundles packed with clothing articles or other useful things for the prisoners.

Talk Thru Wire Screen
One by one a deputy sheriff ushers the callers to a room not far away, directly off the main floor tier of cells. Here in the presence of guards the visitors talk back and forth to their friends between the wire screen which separates them.

Out in the anteroom where they first congregated lay the packages the visitors brought, and Sheriff Frank Johnson and his aides keep them there until someone thoroughly inspects them as a safety precaution.

Then later, they distribute the package among the men inside.
Over 150 visitors pay weekly visits to the jail, and most every prisoner inside finds Tuesday afternoon especially enjoyable because it usually means someone will call to them.

Hoover Places Responsibility On Rudy Vallee

President Asks Radio Crooner To Compose Piece That Will Chase Depression

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—President Hoover today fell back on Rudy Vallee to pull the country out of its present condition.

The crooner, who is appearing locally, and his wife, called at the White House to pay their respects.
The President asked Vallee if he was still pleasing the people and when the latter replied he thought he was, Mr. Hoover said:

"If you'll get a song that will pull us out of this depression, I'll give you a medal."

Vallee caused almost complete cessation of work in the executive offices while the girl clerks and stenographers came upstairs into the lobby to see him and to "see what his wife looks like."

People's Forum To Hear Program

Musical Numbers Will Be Presented At Meeting Sunday Afternoon

Departing from the regular order for their meetings, the People's Forum will present a musical program in their quarters at 210 West Washington street Sunday afternoon.

The committee in charge of the program met last evening and completed arrangements for the entertainment.

All members who have promised to help with the construction of benches for the meeting room, are asked to report there Thursday evening. The lumber has been secured and all that is now needed is a number of men with hammers and saws.

Owens Found Guilty On Larceny Charge

Theodore Owens, negro, charged with the larceny of an automobile, who was tried in county court before Judge James A. Chambers, was found guilty. It was claimed that Owens took the car of W. F. Theilman, from the vicinity of the Shenango pottery. It was later found wrecked on the Pulaski road, at a curve near the Green residence.
Owens was injured and was taken to the hospital.

Owens denied that he had stolen the car. He said that he was walking on Sampson street shortly after midnight, when a white man came along and took him in. He claimed that he did not know the white man, who has not been arrested.

McGinis Acquitted On Larceny Charge

William McGinis, charged with larceny, was found not guilty at court this morning. The charge as made by Robert Black of near Volant, McGinis had worked for Black sometime last summer, and Black claimed the clothes were missing after he left. Black said he had bought the suit in Cleveland. There was no positive identification of the suit, further than that made by Black.

Ligo Captures Bessemer Shoot

Carl Ligo's hit the bull's eye 175 of 200 times last night at the Rod and Gun club range, Bessemer and captured high with Mel Flick, last week's high man, second with 174 hits. Len Weaver shot to third place with 167 of a possible 200 hits.
About 20 participated in the shoot.

One Diphtheria Case Reported

Several Other Communicable Maladies Report To Health Officer

Several new cases of communicable illness have been reported to the city health officer, Dr. W. L.
Steen, according to bureau records.
Among the maladies is one case of diphtheria. The patient is Dorothy Kuhn, 20, 515 Sumner avenue.

The other patients are:
Judd Healy, 7, 1303 Wilmington avenue; measles.

Thayer Winder, 10, 1007 Croton avenue; chickenpox.

Pearl Black, 4, 1310 East Brook road; measles.

Robert Henry, 6, 1212½ South
Mill street; measles.

David Mehan, 3, 120 North
Crawford avenue; chickenpox.

High Water Forces Delay To Project

Workmen Have Not Yet Started Building Creek Wall

Owing to the high water in the Neshannock creek actual construction of the east wall north of North street has not been started. In commenting on the work which is to be done by workmen selected through the mayor's relief committee, the mayor Charles B. Mayne, today said that the Neshannock has more water at present than at any time this year. The Shenango river is also high.

Workmen are engaged at the city golf course, along The Narrows and

STORY HOURS ARE HELD AT BRANCHES

Attendance at the story hours in the East Side and South Side branches of the Free Public Library this week has been very large, and both branches were crowded to the doors.

There were 145 in attendance
Tuesday afternoon at the East Side branch, while 152 were present at the South Side branch story hour Monday.

Miss Alice Joyce, children's librarian told the stories of "The Black Bull of Normandy" and "The Princess who no one could silence."

There will be no story hour at the main library Thursday afternoon because of the Easter vacation in the schools.

MOTHERS ARE GUESTS OF SENIOR RESERVES

The senior high school Girl Reserve Clubs mothers' party took place in the Y. W. C. A. Tuesday evening and was one of the nicest of a number of special events planned as a part of the Y. W. C. A. member-day drive.

Music was furnished by the Girl Reserve orchestra. Two excellent plays were presented by the dramatic club in the auditorium. Later tea and cakes were served in the green room with Miss Grace Jones pouring.

A talk was given on the membership campaign, urging mothers and friends of the Girl Reserves to support the "Y." during the coming April drive.

Trial Of Grim Is Opened At Court

Ten men and two women were selected as jurors before Judge James A. Chambers in court this morning to try the case of R. E.
Grim, of Volant, who is charged with abortion.

There are a number of witnesses including physicians.

Marriage Licenses

and Mrs. W. L. Landgraf of Wam-pan, a student at the University of Pennsylvania, is seriously ill at the University hospital, according to word received here today.

ROAMING

With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

Business was booming up around the court house Tuesday afternoon.
The corridors were dotted with people, the court room was nearly full and the offices had their share.
Looked as though the depression had taken it on the lam.

Criminal court provided many of the crowd, and candidates for county committee places in the two major parties were responsible for the rest of the crowd. Tuesday was the last day for filing petitions for these offices and from now the commissioners' office will have a nice time assorting them according to precinct and party.

Card from a local lad who is dealing out justice for Uncle Sam in the federal court in Erie, Pa. "Having a good time, wish you were here—instead of me."

After serving on a federal jury you can understand why Justice wears bandages over her eyes. There is too much hurry and rush to settle a case, as a general rule, and Justice often gets kicked in the shins.

Saw a record Tuesday of the men who served in the Civil war from Lawrence county, and the gentleman in charge of the record stated that there were more men in the Civil war from this county than served in the World war.

Rather a broad statement but thus far one that nobody can affirm or deny accurately. His argument is that there were about 4000 men in the Civil war from here. An estimate of the World war vets has been placed at 2600. Do you know?

Unfortunately there was never any accurate record kept of the men who left here in 1917 and 1918.
There may have been more than that. On a proportionate basis, assuming there were 4,500,000 men under arms in the American forces, it would appear that this county sent out nearly 3500 in the World war.

Close To 300,000 Have Found Work Through Campaign

United Action To Get Million Men At Work Steadily Progressing

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Mar. 23.—The campaign to put 1,000,000 workers back in jobs launched by the united action for employment group was expected to pass the 300,000 mark today.

Totals so far compiled showed 299,504 men or women were provided with work since the campaign began.

Work was found in the 24 hours last reported in 151 communities of 32 states for 8685 workers.

The campaign is sponsored by the American Legion, the American Federation of Labor, the Legion auxiliary and the Association of National Advertisers.

Family Night At Second Church

Many Accessions To Church Made At The Nightly
Evangelistic Meetings

The evangelistic meetings, which are running a two weeks' course in the Second United Presbyterian church, of which Dr. A. J. Randles is pastor, are proving of great interest and spiritual value, as almost two hundred accessions to the Christian ranks have been made in the past few services.

This evening will be observed as Family night and recognition will be made of the largest family present.

Thursday evening is the Mystery night, with "When and Where" as the questions to be answered; Good Friday services will be held Friday evening and Saturday night will be observed as Farmers' night, at which time Dr. R. A. Thompson of Slippery Rock, who is the guest preacher this week, will have "For Others" as his sermon theme, and all those attending are to bring articles of clothing or food "For Others" and these will be distributed to the needy.

The culmination of the meetings will be in the joyous Easter service which will be held throughout the day Sunday.

The large chorus choir, under Homer Welsh, adds its numbers to the service nightly.

HOLD REHEARSAL FOR LIBRARY PLAY

Rehearsals were held this afternoon in the Story Hour room at the Free Public Library for the play,
"Snowwhite and the Seven Dwarfs," which is to be presented next week by the children of the Blue Star Club.

The complete cast for the play will be announced next week, Miss Alice Joyce, children's librarian, announced today.

Heirs Begin Fight To Share Million

Heirs Of Late Mrs. Ida E.
Woods, Divided Into Two Factions

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Mar. 23.—The first skirmish in the fight for the $1,000,- 000 of Mrs. Ida E. Wood, aged recluse who died ten days ago, opened Tuesday before surrogate James A. Foley with the heirs divided into two camps.

The action centered on appointment of an administrator for the estate, with eight descendants in the third and fourth generations of Mrs. Wood's husband aligned against ten of the descendants of Benjamin Wood's brother.

Otis F. Wood, who represents the second group, served as trustee during Mrs. Wood's last months of life.

BISHOP CLAIMS MEN GOSSIP TOO

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 23.—Men may not be "catty" but their gossip just as much as women.
That assertion was made here by Bishop Charles E. Woodcock, of Kentucky, during a Lenten service.
He declared that fraternities, clubs and other men's organizations were just as "gossipy" as sewing circles, sororities and women's clubs.

Speaking of great inventions that became a menace to the peace of mankind, there's the telephone.

News Of The World As Told In Pictures

Out of The Pens and Into The Lens

One of the first official acts of President de Valera of the Irish Free State on his election as Chief Executive of the Emerald Isle was to abolish the Public Safety Act, passed under the administration of former President Cosgrave, and release all political prisoners sentenced under the act. Photo shows a group of prisoners outside the Arbor Hill Military Prison, Dublin, after they had been set free on de Valera's order. A wide-awake caperaman was not quite wide-awake enough to prevent a colleague from snapping him as he snapped the prisoners.

City Heads in the Kitchen

Although they have been elected to the highest political positions in the town of Duval, Washington, the three women shown here can still spare the time to attend to their wifely duties in the kitchen. Left to right, they are: Mrs. J. I. Miller, Councilwoman; Mrs. S. A. Burke, Mayor, and Mrs. William Roney, Councilwoman. When their presence is required at the City Hall, the City Mothers merely take off their aprons and straighten out any municipal tangles that come up.

JUST A PICTURE OF MOTHER LOVE

Here's the personification of true mother love in an intimate shot taken at Overton Park zoo, Memphis, Tenn. Mrs. African Green nibbles on a side dish of lettuce leaf, a picture of contentment, as young African, Jr., sticks close to his mother and just looks around. Junior is plainly nervous but, then, this is his first picture.

Visitors from Britain

Visiting the United States to discover if there is anything in those rumors about California's wonderful climate, General Viscount Byng of Vimy, famous British soldier, former Governor General of Canada for 10 years head of Scotland Yard, is shown with Lady Byng as they arrived at Los Angeles. Asked if there were any chance that England would adopt prohibition, Lord Byng laughed loud and long.

Guard Princesses

As a result of warning letters received by the Duke and Duchess of York hinting that there was danger of their two little girls being kidnapped as was the child of Colonel Lindbergh, the two baby Princesses have been placed under a special armed guard. Above is one of the children, Princess Elizabeth Alexandra Mary, 6 years old. A granddaughter of the King of England, the Princess and her 19-month-old sister are being guarded by a strong force of Scotland Yard men.

Doctor's Nemesis

Selected by Shenandoah Apple Blossom Festival authorities to be queen of the ninth annual celebration, which will be held in Winchester, Va., in May, Miss Helen Ames Washington (above) will wear the official designation of "Queen Shenandoah IX." Miss Washington is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Lafayette Washington, of Overbrook, Pa.

West Point "Bride"

His Golden Voice Stilled Olcott's Fame Lingers On

Memory of Famous Singer of Irish Ballads Will Live On in Songs He Immortalized. To Be Buried From St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York.

In accordance with the last wishes of the beloved songster, the body of Chauncey Olcott is on its way home to New York from Monte Carlo, Monaco, for burial in the country he loved, where millions, who remember his golden voice, mourn his passing. Though Olcott made his greatest appeal to the American public as a singer of Irish ballads, he never saw the Emerald Isle of which he sang until he had achieved fame. Born in Buffalo, N. Y., in 1860, Olcott made his debut as a singer in a minstrel show. But it wasn't long until the quality of his voice won for him parts in light operas and operettas. Some of his best known parts were in "Ragged Robin," "Barry of Ballymore," "The Heart of Paddy Whack" and the opera "Macushla." He is also famous as the introducer of "Mother Macchree" and "My Wild Irish Rose," two ballads that will live as long as an Irishman remains alive to sing them. Near death in 1925, Olcott attributed his recovery to prayer and the healing power which he insisted was in his wife's hands. So firm was this belief that he had a sculptured model made of them. The Olcotts left the United States last November to spend the Winter at their villa in Monte Carlo, where the singer succumbed to pernicious anemia.

New Eaglet Clue?

Demanding police protection against possible underworld reprisals which may follow the telling of her story, Miss Theresa Dorsi, who lives near the Lindbergh estate at Hopewell, N. J., has given police information that may prove valuable in their search for the stoler child. Miss Dorsi told of seeing a sedan mired near the Lindbergh home about three hours before the kidnapping. She also picked out the occupants of the car from Rogues' Gallery pictures. The men are said to be New York racketeers.

Honor Trial Judge

Judge Charles S. Davis (above) will preside at the trial in Honolulu of Mrs. Granville Fortescue, Lieut. Thomas Massie and the two Navy enlisted men charged with the slaying of Joseph Kahahawai, alleged attacker of Mrs. Fortescue's daughter, Mrs. Thalia Massie. Judge Davis replaces Judge Cristy who disqualified himself.

Where Crash Took Seven Lives

This mass of twisted wreckage is all that remained of the big American Airways passenger plane after the crash at Calimesa, Cal., that took a toll of seven lives. The air liner was enroute to Los Angeles from Phoenix, Ariz., when it encountered fog. It is believed that the pilot was endeavoring to get below the mist when he crashed into the high tension power lines that set his plane afire. Only one man was taken from the wreckage alive, and he succumbed shortly after reaching the hospital.

Basking in Artificial Sunshine

These first pictures show the Canadian National Steamship Co.'s liner, "Prince David" on the rocks five miles from St. George, Bermuda and (left) a closeup of some of the 237 persons rescued from the sinking vessel as they made off in a lifeboat for the rescue ship "Lady Somers." The "Prince David" was abandoned within an hour after going on the reef and is a total loss. No lives were lost.

May Majesty

That beauty is not a matter of geography was proved when a Northern girl, Miss Norma Elizabeth Schuetz, of Orange, N. J., was selected by her Southern schoolmates as Queen of May. Miss Schuetz is a senior at Randolph-Macon College, Lynchburg, Va. She will wear the crown at the coming May celebrations.

Heir and Dancer Bride

Honeymooning in their Greenwich Village, New York, apartment, Allan P. Carlisle and his dancer bride, shown above, are spending much of their time job hunting. Carlisle, Harvard student and son of a millionaire broker, eloped with his bride, the former Romaine Fleming, taxi dancer, on Christmas Day. When the news leaked out Carlisle's father is said to have offered the dancer bride a small fortune if she would consent to giving up her new husband. But love won out and both are now looking for work.

Stern Note To President
British Government Sends Eamonn De Valera

SITUATION IS BECOMING TENSE

By HARRY K. REYNOLDS

LONDON, Mar. 23.—The British government is dispatching a strong note to the Irish Free State regarding President Eamonn De Valera's announcement of the oath of allegiance would be abolished and the land annuities withheld, Dominions Secretary J. H. Thomas announced in the House of Commons this afternoon.

"We are addressing the Irish Free State a communication making our standing point clear beyond the possibility of doubt," Thomas said.

The Dominions secretary formally announced De Valera's plans, yesterday Thomas conferred with King George at Buckingham Palace. This visit recalled the famous "speech from the throne" on the occasion of the opening of the Ulster Parliament in 1926, when the monarch's plea for forbearance by the Irish people was credited with averting grave internal strife.

"It is manifest," Thomas said in discussing De Valera's announcement, "that the oath of allegiance is an integral part of the treaty hitherto honorably observed by both sides."

Week. Rev. Fr. Leo Watterson, assistant, in the absence of the pastor, Rev. Fr. P. J. McKenna, will be in charge of the various services.

This evening at 7:45 o'clock there will be the regular Lenten devotion with the continuation of the Novena to the Little Flower.

Holy Thursday, there will be mass at 8 a. m. with a procession to the repository of the Blessed Sacrament. This will be followed by Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament, through Thursday and all night until 8 a. m. Friday morning. From nine o'clock Thursday evening until 8 o'clock Friday morning, there will be an all night vigil conducted by the men of the parish, who will serve one hour each through the entire night. The Blessed Sacrament will be exposed all day Thursday and during the night.

Good Friday morning at 8 a. m. there will be a procession from the repository followed by the Mass of the Pre-Sanctified. There will be the adoration of the cross throughout the day, the cross being out for adoration during that time.

Friday afternoon at three o'clock and again at 7:45 p. m. there will be the Stations of the Cross.

Holy Saturday morning at 7 a. m. there will be the blessing of the new fire, the paschal candles, Easter Holy Water and the Baptismal font and the reading of the Twelve Prophecies, followed by Mass at about 8 a. m.

Easter Sunday morning there will be four masses, 7 a. m., 8:30 a. m., 9:45 a. m. and 11 a. m. The last mass will be High Mass at which time there will be special music by the Men's and Boy's choirs of the church under the direction of Frank Gribben, organist and choir director. This will be followed by the Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

Licensed Operators Must Be Present

Corporal L. C. Hanks, in charge of the State Highway patrol examiners today requested that applicants for driving privileges should be accompanied by licensed operators and a registration card for the machine they operate.

The examinations are held each Tuesday from a point in front of the New Castle Lumber & Construction company, north and south on Sampson street.

Well CAUGHT!

A SHARP TINKLE of broken glass! In an instant Mr. Bowman was alert. Raising himself from his pillow he listened intently.

A long silence—then a creak of stealthy footsteps. Someone was downstairs! Cautiously, Mr. Bowman reached for his bedside telephone. "Operator!" he whispered hoarsely. "Send police to 17 Oakmont Street—hurry!"

The three-minute wait seemed interminable. Then lights flashed—running footsteps—muffled exclamations!

"It's all right, sir," came a police officer's hearty voice, "we've got him!" And as Mr. Bowman appeared he added, "You handled it just right!"

Mr. Bowman smiled and shook his head. "You and the telephone can have the credit," he replied.

No. 3, Vina Delmar, famous authoress, who writes stories that are translated into films, with her husband. No. 4 is pretty Sydney Fox, one of the screen's biggest favorites.

Twenty Six More Pass Drivers Test On Tuesday

Twenty-six more local persons today have a legal right to operate motor vehicles in Pennsylvania, having successfully passed tests given Tuesday by a special squad of examiners from the state highway patrol. The examinations were in charge of Corporal L. C. Hanks. Other patrolmen who conducted the examinations were Privates Galvin and Kennedy.

While 26 were successful eight who took the tests failed to win their "driving cards". They have the option of undergoing another examination.

Each Tuesday the state highway patrol squad in charge of Corporal Hanks conducts the examinations here in Sampson street. Their office during Tuesday is located at the New Castle Lumber & Construction company.

The persons who passed yesterday follow:

Dorothy E. Buxton, 1001 Croton avenue, city.

Lighthouse Is Built On Sands

New Structure At Lake Huron Is Triumph Of Engineering Skill

100-Foot Tower Will Rest On Crushed Stones On Lake Bottom

To build a towering structure on the shifting sands of a deep body of water has ever been a challenge to engineering genius. But the United States Lighthouse Service has accomplished this feat in the erection of foundations for the new Detroit light station, a mile out from shore in Lake Huron, says the Detroit News.

The new beacon, which is to stand guard at the southern end of the St. Mary's river in Lake Huron, represents the application of an entirely new principle of under-water construction. The 100-foot tower, when finally completed next fall, will rest on a foundation of crushed stone poured on the lake bed.

Attacked by Ice.

Other methods were discarded because the Great Lakes are bodies of fresh water and during the winter months freeze over to such an extent that navigation is discontinued. Any structure that stands in the lakes is subjected to the gargantuan hammering of huge ice floes.

It was the practice formerly to anchor a stone foundation to a rock that projected from the water or lay close beneath its surface, or to sink a huge metal cylinder and fill it with concrete.

The new Detroit lighthouse will have around its base the protection of huge timbers which a hundred years from now should be in as good condition as they are today. Shipyards have seasoned their wood by placing it under water, and timbers are selected to protect the concrete base of the lighthouse for that reason.

These timbers are firmly bolted together and moored in the 15-foot concrete walls. They were put together to form a huge framework 60 feet square and 24 feet high with solid sides and bottom. This crib was built on shore and afterward launched and towed to the site for the new light station. It resembled a gigantic egg crate, with the interior divided into nine pockets, the center one being about 30 feet square.

Newest Type Planned.

Before the crib was towed out several hundred tons of crushed stone was dumped on the lake bed. A drag swung between two lighthouse tenders levelled off this pile of crushed rock on the lake bed and the crib was towed over this crushed stone base and sunk by pouring more tons of crushed stone into the center compartment.

Following this concrete was poured into the eight outer pockets of the crib, forming the solid cement walls of the lighthouse foundation, which protruded partly above the water line.

Work has ceased for the winter, but will be resumed in the spring and completed by fall.

On the foundation of the new station will rise the newest type of lighthouse of concrete and steel. In the lower stories will be the machinery for operating the fog signals and generators to provide electric current for the radio beacon, the lights in the tower and for illumination of the keeper's quarters.

Storage space for coal and other provisions will be provided on the first floor and boats will be mounted outside the house on the concrete deck. With these the keepers can go ashore. The station will be manned by three or four men.

The Russians are funny. Everybody over there works to provide spending money for the Government, and they call it communism instead of Americanism.

Senator Brookhart wants the movies investigated, and the movie folk are perfectly content, provided the investigators pay their way in.

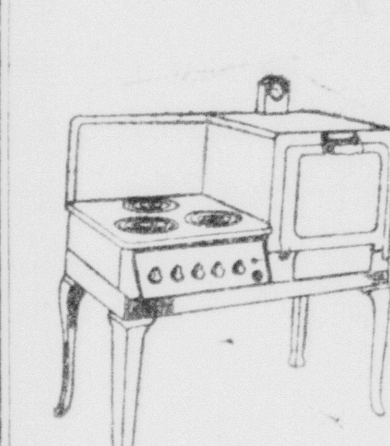

But if you won't believe in a Creator you can't see, why believe in rays you can't see?

Gargoyle Gold for Britain

The hunt for gold in England goes on unabated as the gold-selling man which has been drawing thousands of Britons to the offices of the gold merchants for the last few weeks continues undiminished. Kinds of novel sources are being tapped for the precious metal, and even gold teeth going to the melting pot in the fever of the hunt. Photo above shows workers from the South coast at Arley, Eng., carrying one of their huge gargoyles to the melting pot, where the gold leaf was melted from the figure to do its bit for the common cause.

NEW YORK, Mar. 23.—Hyman Rothschild, 107 years old, oldest inmate of the Brooklyn Hebrew Home and Hospital for the Aged, died Wednesday and three hours later his friend, Mrs. Esther Silverstein, 100 years old, another inmate, passed away.

Rothschild was the "papa" of the institution. As the oldest inmate he officiated Tuesday at ceremonies in celebration of the feast of Purim, commemorating the liberation of the Jews from bondage.

He was taken ill early Wednesday and died shortly afterward of heart failure. Later Mrs. Silverstein became ill and asked to see "Papa" Rothschild.

COLORADO HOLDS HIGH RECORDS FOR BABY ADOPTION

DENVER, Col., Mar. 23.—Colorado is the greatest baby adopting state in the union, and foster parents like baby girls best.

John L. McMenamin, superintendent of the State Home for Dependent and Neglected Children, is authority for this statement.

McMenamin revealed that more than 1,000 applications for adoption of baby girls are constantly on file at the home. In addition, daily appeals are received by newspapers, the juvenile court, the children's aid bureau and local hospitals from men and women, asking help in finding a baby.

"The supply of babies for adoption is far below the demand," Judge Stanley Johnson of the juvenile court said in a recent address.

Things That May Happen To Thyroid

Discovery Of Iodine Treatment For Goiter Related

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

The simple forms of goiter—thyroid enlargement that is compensatory in character—have already been considered (in yesterday's article). One of these is the enlargement of the gland due to increased demands of it during special periods in the reproductive life of women. The other is the enlargement found in goitrous regions where the soil is poor in iodine and which can be prevented by giving iodine in small quantities (30 grains of sodium iodine twice a year is enough). These two forms of thyroid enlargement contribute about half, or more, of all the goiters seen by a busy practitioner. Many other things can happen to the thyroid gland, however. So many that it is quite bewildering even to set them down on paper. There may be goiter without symptoms. That is, the thyroid gland may grow to quite a large size—the so-called colloid goiter—without pouring any excessive secretion into the blood—without being accompanied by any of the signs—increased basal metabolism, rapid heart rate, loss of weight, tremor of the muscles, nervousness, prominence of the eyes—which we have come to associate with an increase in the amount of the thyroid secretion. There may be increased thyroid secretion without any goiter—without any enlargement of the gland. There may be enlargement of the gland and symptoms of decreased thyroid secretion—the thyroid is often large and fibrous in myxedema. There may be enlargement of the thyroid with symptoms of increase in the secretion of the gland. There may be enlargement of the thyroid with symptoms of the secretion of a substance not present in health at all—the so-called ex-ophthalmic goiter, or Graves' disease. With so many possibilities it is easy to see that no one plan of management or treatment can be given for "goiter". Some of them need no treatment. For those that do there are many methods which can be used. One is the employment of the rest cure—rest in bed, plenty of nourishing food, freedom from distractions—until the balances are readjusted. In fact, any treatment that leaves this essential part out is liable to failure. Besides that there is the use of iodine, surgery and the X-ray. All are good methods and each has its place. The value of iodine was discovered by accident. The great French doctor, Trousseau, relates in his lectures that one day a patient with goiter consulted him whose pulse was so fast he decided to prescribe tincture of digitalis. By mistake he wrote tincture of iodine. When the patient returned the doctor discovered his mistake but although he was alarmed at first this turned to happiness when he discovered that the iodine had made a marked improvement in the patient's general condition. Its use in goiter was revived about ten years ago and since then we have learned much about iodine in this condition. It is by no means a cure-all and too much can easily be taken but it has its place—a very valuable one, especially in preparing patients for operation.

World Citizenship Class Meets Monday

Group Studying Of International Questions Sends Telegram To Senator Pittman

The class in World Citizenship, which comprises members of the International Relationship committee of the Woman's Club and others interested in the Peace movement, met Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. William Cosel, Sheridan avenue, for the regular monthly meeting. The class voted to send a telegram to Senator Pittman, Washington, D. C., which reads as follows: "Believing that a Court of International Justice is important machinery in implementing the Kellogg Pact, that the World Court would be greatly strengthened by the adherence of United States; we protest against your resolution which only delays action on an already accepted proposal. We are counting on your support", signs, International Relations Department, Woman's Club, New Castle, Pa. There are those who are definitely obstructing action on the World Court, and it was promised that this legislation would be taken up as soon as the emergency legislation was out of the way, and now that this is finished, it is now asked that the foreign relationship committee bring this to the attention of the Senate. Senator Pittman has a new resolution, which will delay bringing the World Court measure before the Senate, and it is this the International Relationship committee is objecting to.

DRAW them out with a "counter-irritant." Muscular lumbago, soreness and stiffness—generally respond to good old Musterole. Doctors call it a "counter-irritant" because its warming action penetrates and stimulates blood circulation and helps to draw out infection and pain. It gets action and is not just a salve. But do not stop with one application. Apply this soothing, cooling, healing ointment generously to the affected area once every hour for five hours. Used by millions for over 20 years. Recommended by many doctors and nurses. All druggists.

To Mothers—Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

Two Thousand Pheasants At Game Farm HereEgg Laying May Start In Few Weeks At the Farm Near HarlansburgPLAN TO PROPAGATE RABBITS THIS YEARIn just a few weeks, probably between April 1 and 15, the egg laying season at the Jordan State Game Propagation Farm will be underway.This great game farm, located one mile from Harlansburg, will produce this year for the state of Pennsylvania around 50,000 pheasant eggs, according to an estimate by the superintendent in charge, V. T.
Warfel. About 30,000 of those eggs will be packed and sent to counties most of which are in the western part of the state. The eggs will be hatched, baby ring-necks raised and later released by game wardens and sportsmen in time for the bird season. Twenty thousand will be kept and hatched at the game farm.Covering a great expanse of 327 acres the Jordan State Game Farm is a place of very unusual interest and each summer draws thousands of visitors from places within several hundred miles radius.Birds For Breeding According to Game Keeper War-fel, there are 1800 ring-necked pheasants at the farm now and 100 birds of fancy breeds. The ring-necks have been wintered at the farm to be used this spring for breeding. The fancy plumed pheasants, including the gorgeous yellow and black spotted Reeves, the majestic multi-colored Golden, Silver, Versi-Colored, and Lady Amherst, are raised for display.Later in the spring the fancy feathered birds will be arranged in the long row of display pens near the entrance to the farm, the pens will be labeled and visitors may have the opportunity to get a close view of the most beautiful specimen of the proud Pheasant Kingdom.But the farm is maintained for the sole purpose of raising ring-necked pheasant eggs and baby game chicks for distribution in the hunting areas of the state.To Raise Rabbits
As an experiment this year a small part of the acreage this summer will be devoted to the propagation of rabbits, Mr. Warfel announced. This is something new here and is in fact unusual anywhere in the state.
One of the two other propagation farms is located in Juniata county, covers 900 acres and the work is entirely with wild turkey raising. No pheasants nor animals are bred here.The third farm 328 acres of land in Montgomery county, a short distance from the city of Philadelphia, and is referred to as the Fisher State Game Farm. The same amount of pheasants as at the Lawrence county farm and a large number of quail are grown there. This year there will be about 40,000 quail eggs hatched at the Fisher farm on 75 acres set aside for that project.A visit of a News representative to the Jordan farm and a talk with Superintendent Warfel revealed the following interesting facts:Of the 327 acres, 200 are now fenced in. The fence is high wire, preventing escape of the wing-clipped birds, and extends some distance under the ground to prevent the burrowing of rodents and reptiles. The nearly 2000 pheasants are wintering in a 20 acre plot of ground at the present time. There are 165 individual pens located in the "laying fields." The laying fields are situated in a quiet part ofthe farm on new and healthy ground. Each pen is 16 feet square and will very soon be inhabited by five little brown hens and one vain and proud male bird.Four Men There Mr. Warfel, who took over this work last December, is well acquainted with it, having been a game warden a number of years then later in charge of Game Refuge No.
35 in Susquehanna county. This refuge covered 7000 acres of forest land. Mr. Warfel spent five years supervising the care of that huge piece of state property. With his wife, Mr. Warfel resides on the game farm property here.Kenneth N. Brenneman is assistant superintendent and also resides at the farm. He and Mr. War-fel are helped in the work by William Hanna and Ed. Eakin.Dr. Steen's Report Shows Wholesome Milk Is Sold

ruary report of Dr. W. L. Steen, city health officer, which will be submitted to city council at the municipal building.As a result Dr. Steen explains that "it is the way we measure the amount of dirt there is in the milk.
Bacteria live and grow on the small particles of dirt and though we cannot measure the dirt we can count the bacteria."He adds that "milk that contains more than 100,000 bacteria is classed as insanitary and unwholesome and its sale here is prohibited by law.
When milk was tested during February, the report states no milk contained more than 100,000 bacteria."The report will contain a table of milk examined. The bacteria deal-fare, Forests and Waters and the bureau of fire protection, state police, have designated the week beginning Monday, April 4th, as cleanup week.This custom, which is an annual one, has always resulted in developing a state-wide interest in sanitation and the removal of nuisances and fire hazards.For this reason cities, boroughs, small communities and individuals throughout the commonwealth are again urged to co-operate with the departments in the observance of these activities.It goes without saying that each community may exercise its own judgment regarding a program.

However, it is essential that the inand before the citizens generally in order that the people may be able

North Beaver Grange Hears Fine Papers On George Washington

Very Interesting Program Is Carried Out At Last Meeting

North Beaver Grange at its last regular meeting, March 18, carried out a most interesting program, which included a number of fine papers relative to various characteristics of George Washington, leader of the armies of this country in the revolutionary war and first president of the country.

All officers were in their places with the exception of the gate keeper and Ronald Broadbeck filled this chair for the evening. After the business meeting, the program of the evening was carried out by the members.

Featuring the program were the addresses given by Anna Benson on "George Washington, the Citizen"; and by David F. Kyle on "George Washington, the Farmer."

These papers were most interesting and instructive and will be followed throughout the year with papers on different subjects concerning the life of George Washington.

At the next meeting, Rev. T. C. Henderson will give a paper on "George Washington, the Christian," in which he will show his inherited religious attitudes and how in his military experiences, he revealed religious convictions through his diaries and his letters. There will also be a reading, "Maude Miller Revived," by Robert McChesney, also two guessing contests and stunts.

Dinner-Dances For Fraternities

Three College Fraternities To Have Social Events Friday Night

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Mar. 23.—Three Westminster College fraternities will hold their annual dinner-dances on Friday evening of this week.

Delta Phi Sigma will hold its social event in the Edgewood Country Club, Pittsburgh.

Kappa Phi Lambda will hold its dinner-dance at the Sharon Country Club. Theta Upsilon Omega will hold its event at the New Castle Field Club.

Charles Cochran, Mercer, is chairman of the Theta Upsilon Omega affair. Other members of the committee include: Edwin Swartz, Hickory; Clinton Welsh, Homestead; and Otto Pearsall, New Castle.

The committee in charge of the Kappa Phi Lambda formal includes: Robert Weingartner, New Castle; Paul McMillan, Brocton, N. Y.; William Rea, Youngstown, O.; and William Dindinger, Pittsburgh.

The Delta Phi Sigma committee includes Philip Rice, Duquesne; Andrew McDonald, New Wilmington; and James Smalley, Elizabeth.

Members of the faculty and members of the board of trustees will act as chaperons for these three social functions.

QUARANTINE 247 HOMES LAST MONTH

Sanitary policemen for the city during February placed 247 homes in quarantine, communicable illness having been reported to Dr. W. L. Steen, city health officer. One hundred and eighty-three homes were released from quarantine during the month. In addition there were 348 sanitary inspections.

Whenever a communicable illness is reported the city sanitary policemen place a quarantine card on the house and when the quarantine is lifted remove the card.

MAIL PLANE CRASH PROVES FATAL

Death rode the wings of this St. Louis-New York mail plane when it crashed into the waters of the Ohio river at Brown's Island, eight miles from Steubenville, O. The body of the pilot was bound to the wrecked plane by the ropes of his parachute. Search was continued for Dr. Carol Skinner Cole of St. Louis, a woman passenger.

Weekly Health Talk

"There is a large group of individuals who in the last decade have become increasingly annoying. They are known to every driver of an automobile, and are to be found on all main highways in the country. Some of them are just a passing bother, a few of them are real criminals, all of them represent a troublesome by-product of automotive power. They are the hitch-hikers. This impor-

and infections enter the body tissues by specific microorganisms which invade it from the outside. These bacteria, like the highway hitch-hikers, vary in trouble degree from one causing an irritating cold to those resulting in major illness and death.

"Some of the master bacterial criminals have been laid low. However, when the whole brilliant story of mass prevention has been told, there yet remain germs whose hitch-hiking success is practically dependent upon individual human conduct.

"For example, those persons who have unfortunately contracted colds should cough and sneeze into handkerchiefs. The spray from a cough or sneeze can very readily infect a close bystander by the direct air route. Moreover, if persons suffering from a respiratory or bronchial affection cough or sneeze over food that is served another, the germs thus distributed can quite readily invade the consumer. Unquestionably carelessness in these matters have been the direct cause for many a cold and worse.

"Again, food handlers who are ill are likely to become a disease hazard if they do not religiously apply soap and water to their hands before engaging in their work.

"And finally, in this highly complex civilization of ours, the hands of the average well individual are likely to contact with germs by way of other objects such as doorknobs, towels, etc. Therefore, soap and water again looms large as the only safe prophylaxis before one takes food into the mouth.

"In short, a little more individual care and the use of a little more soap and water do much to decrease the power of some of the more common disease breeding bacteria. Why not apply them?"

PERFORM DUTIES OF FOOD INSPECTORS

Sanitary policemen operated as food inspectors during February which resulted in inspections at meat and fish markets, hotels and restaurants, confectionery stores, ice cream parlors, soda fountains, milk depots and pasteurizing plants. In all the inspections totaled 172.

Education is a great thing. It teaches you to worry about things you never heard of before.

Believes Colonel Fawcett Is Dead

Brazilian Head Of Indian Commission Says Explorer Is Dead

(International News Service)

RIO DE JANEIRO, Mar. 23.—The conviction that Colonel P. H. Fawcett, British explorer who disappeared in the Brazilian jungles almost seven years ago, is dead, was expressed Tuesday by General Canedo Rondon, chief of the Federal Indian commission, in an official report to Arthur Abbott, British consul at Sao Paulo.

General Rondon had been requested by Abbott to investigate the story of Stephen Rattin, a Swiss trapper, who claimed to have met Fawcett last October in the interior of Mato Grosso state.

Yet in quiet villages there are millions of people whose greatest anxiety is the neighbor's flock of chickens or Willie's marks in school.

NERVOUS, WEAK, MISERABLE

New Castle, Pa. "After I had gone thru a critical operation I just could not get back to health. I was nervous and so weak and miserable that I could not be on my feet," said Miss

Do You Want A Business of your own?

Unexcelled opportunity offered by manufacturer

One of our clients (a man) "fractured" in national reputation has an unusually attractive position opening for a man in New Castle who is financially able to accept a profitable and permanent arrangement for the sale of a strictly cash article used by everyone.

A plan has been developed which offers attractive possibilities for profit without need of credit extensions to dealers. The product is a new way to serve an article of proved consumption. Approximately $1500 required on which gross profits of from $1000 to $2000 yearly should be made.

Interviews will be arranged in New Castle with applicants whose qualifications measure up to the needs of our client.

If you feel that you would like to establish a business of your own and want to stabilize yourself with a substantial income, write for details.

Union School Gym Scene Of Laughter Over Floor Games

Married Women And Men Play High School Young- sters Basketball

Married Women Beat Girls, Packed House Greet Effort Of Ex- Stars

Laughter and the squeaking of joints combined last night to make the basketball event at Union high school gym the biggest athletic event of the year. It was the first annual contest between the married men and women of Union township against the high school boys and girls floor teams. To say that the event was a success would be putting it mild. It was a riot from start to finish.

Old Folks Do Well.
Such fun was derived from the evening's entertainment that the event will more than likely be held yearly. Married women who were former Union high school players and who had not played basketball for many years, scampers around like young girls and despite their age and condition they defeated the high school girls varsity team 14 to 12. This game was one of the highlights of the evening. Mrs. White and Mrs. Heckert, having five field goals between them. Latimer, Bailey and Tobish scored for Union. Mrs. Davis played against her daughter, June Davis, at side-center.

The second game on the bill was between two married women's teams. The game ended with a score of 6 to 4. The game was a scream from start to finish. The real hit of the evening, one would say. The old girls sure did try hard and they displayed quite nice form.

Union Wins.
The Union high boys varsity hung it on the married men to the tune of 17 to 7. The feature was the guarding of Paul Morrison, the Union high forward, by his father. Neither of the Morrisons scored. Coach Boyd played with the married men and didn't score. Conway, Ammons and Barnes tallied for the married men. Morrison and Borna and the Union high team. The old men couldn't stand the gaft, age had a telling effect.

The final game of the evening brought together two married men's teams, with the "A" team winning 6 to 4, after a fierce battle in which points cracked louder than ever.

All In Fun.
The Union high gym was packed to capacity for the gala event, and more laughter than has been heard for some time came from the confines of the gym as the older folks tried to keep on an even keel with the youngsters. It was all in fun. They didn't play very long, but the old men couldn't stand the gaft, age had a telling effect.

That deep breathing heard out on the Harbor road came from the Union high gym, and was not part of the storm. Well, anyway, it will bring out the limousine bottles in perfection today in a great many of the Union township homes.

Things looked bad for Braddock when Kreiling was put out of the game. Marshall took his place. It was later brought to light that Kreiling did not have four personals, but that the official scorer had made a mistake and the fourth foul could have gone to Kryzwicki, but Braddock High won anyway, and there will be no protest, but serious trouble would have resulted had Braddock been defeated. ersers do make mistakes sometimes. Braddock finally chased that touring jinx. They have tried for nine years and always came close, but they never made the goal till last night.

There's a bright side. After watching great minds combat the depression, you should be rid of your inferiority complex.

Bessemer High Season Closes

Bessemer High Handicapped During Past Basket- ball Season

OPPONENTS SCORE 336 TO 301 FOR BESSEMER

Bessemer high won five out of 18 basketball games this season, playing with practically a green team. When the season started only two lettermen formed the nucleus for the Fredericksen. Following the game with East Brook they left the squad, shifting the burden upon the shoulders of six men who had had little previous experience. The six who bore the brunt were Paul Swanson, Bill DeArment, Joe Gorenz, Len Benson, Mike Plevnic and Joe Percic. Although these won but three games, every league game with one exception was "anybody's game" until the final whistle. Swanson is the only senior who leaves a good nucleus for 1932.

Men on Squad
The other men comprising the squad were: Ed. Nelson, Frank Clark, Harry Shoup, Charles Stanish, Rudy Sloush, Kenneth Young, Henry Marshall and Henry Throop. The squad of 14 was made up of four freshmen, six sophomores, two juniors and two seniors.

Eight letters are to be awarded. One of which will be awarded to the freshman who has been of most value to the team. Members receiving letters will be announced in the near future.

Stars Lose To Shenango High

Craig's Basket Shooting Nets 14 Points Against Church Team

CHURCH RESERVES DEFEAT FACULTY

Shenango high school defeated the Shenango Church Stars, 29 to 14, and the Church Reserves won from the Shenango high school faculty 25 to 21 in benefit games for the teachers' relief last night. The auditorium was completely filled. Church All-Stars had a two-point lead in the first quarter, but Craig commenced dropping the ball into the basket and amassed 14 points for his team.

Kaiser was the scoring ace for the Church Reserves. He scored four field goals and five foul points. Brown, center for the faculty, netted his team nine points.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

When managers of Primo Carnera and George Cook failed to decide upon a referee Promoter Jeff Dickson, London, announced that the fighter who received the most applause will be named a winner. After this announcement the secretary of the British boxing board issued a statement in which he declared that the bout will be illegal if there is no referee. A meeting of stewards has been called to consider the situation.

Two picked teams of Purdue's 1931 ex-championship Big Ten squad will engage in a football game to demonstrate the new rules as a special feature of the two-day football conference at LaFayette, Ind., Friday and Saturday. Nearly 75 coaches will attend.

Somewhat nettled over the criticism that has been directed toward his way for selecting nondescript opponents for Mickey Walker and Jackie Fields, Jack Kearns, manager strolled into the Stadium office at Chicago and signed a blanket contract for five fights for each of his men.

Phar Lap, Australian red horse who won the Agua Caliente handicap has been shipped to the Hamilton ranch at San Clemente, Calif., for a few days rest. David J. Davis, owner, said Phar Lap's bruised hoof would be cured entirely within a few days. The bruise was sustained after Sunday's race.

Mrs. Sara Fowles Wadsworth, Pittsburgh, was declared winner of the annual Pine Cone tourney for women at Pinehurst when high wind forced cancellation of the last 18 hole round. She had 82 and led Miss Helen Waring, New York, Mrs. John Chapman, Greenwich, Ct., Mrs. E. B. Morrow, Baltimore, Miss Kathryn Bragaw, Orange, N. Y., who tied for second honors by five strokes.

Ace Hudkins, boxer, has been sued for $50,000, at Los Angeles. Leonard Wood charged that Hudkins, known in boxing as the Nebraska Wildcat, severely beat him last January in a street brawl. The complaint described Hudkins fists as "dangerous weapons."

New York Giants, it is reported are anxious to establish a "farm" in the Middle Atlantic league and are dickering with President Elmer Daily for a team. Several clubs are under consideration, the report from Elmerburg states. The next league meeting will be held in Clarkburg. The date has not been announced.

St. Mary's Beat Ambridge Cauls

Capture First Of Three Game Titular Series 28 To 27

ROWE, UHLE, PANDER STAR DURING GAME

St. Mary's and Ambridge Cauls played a fast game, the first of a series of three for the Lawrence and Beaver counties independent title at St. Mary's last night. St. Mary's won 28 to 27.

The Lawrence county independent champions led eight to three at the end of the first period, 18 to eight at the end of the half and led when the fourth period started.

Cauls braced during the last five minutes of play and hung enough points to put St. Mary's in jeopardy but fortunately for them Cauls could not deadlock the score.

Rowe and Uhle played a good game for St. Mary's. Between them they annexed 20 points. Uhle was in fine form. He basketed five pointers and two single marks.

Pander, guard for Ambridge Cauls played a splendid game for the losers. He was hard to check. He made seven of the 27 points the visitors made.

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY WILLIAM RITT

(Central Press Sports Editor)

What becomes of all those ball players, gridders, fighters, tennis stars, golf kings and the other luminaries whose names are in the newspapers? A few continue to pursue sports as a career, but not in too active a manner.

A tiny minority gain fame as great in civil life as was their laurels in the sports world. For instance, Warren Barbour, who is now more famous as a United States senator than he was many years ago as national amateur heavyweight champion.

Here is what some of your other sport favorites, no longer headlines, are doing:

Mike Gibbons is teaching his son to follow his famous dad's footsteps in the ring. Young Gibbons is still an amateur, but is learning rapidly.

Cy Young, one of the greatest pitchers of all time, is living quietly on an Ohio farm.

Frank Moran, who fought both Jess Willard and Jack Johnson for the heavyweight championship of the world, is promoting sport shows in Colorado.

Norval Bappte, the greatest ice skater the world has ever seen, is connected with a winter sports club in New York, occasionally writing newspaper articles on winter sports.

Parke H. Davis, who coached Lafayette University's football teams many years ago and taught the grid game to such greats as Fielding H. Yost, is a noted football coach.

Philadelphia Jack O'Brien, who came awfully close to being the world's heavyweight champ about 25 years ago, is now pursuing a career as a concert violinist.

Fred Kelly, 1912 Olympic hurdle champion, is flying the air mail between Los Angeles, Cal., and Salt Lake City, Utah.

Joe Ray, the great runner of a decade or so ago, has been recently seen participating in dance marathons.

Jack Britton, welterweight champion of the world 10 years ago, is teaching his son the ring game.

Jim Thorpe, the Indian who starred at almost all the sports there are save tennis and golf, is working as a movie extra.

Bernie Webers, the great sprinter of another generation, is a coach at Rutgers University.

Hans Wagner, probably the greatest shortstop who ever lived, is operating a men's furnishing store in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Jim Jeffries is running his ranch in the great open spaces of the West and recently made some appearance in the movies.

Hans Kolehmainen, greatest distance runner of two decades or so ago, is running a hardware store in his native Finland.

May Sutton Bundy, national tennis champion of a generation ago, is teaching her children the right way to play the court game.

Duke Kahanamoku, the famed Hawaiian swimming star, is a sort of official greeter for celebrities to the Pacific isles.

Willie Ritola, a great Finnish runner who may yet come back, is a carpenter in Florida.

Eddie Roush, star fiddler and one-time boxing champion of the National League, has definitely settled down to a career as a farmer in southern Indiana.

Chip Off Old Block

American baseball may boast another Roger Peckinpaugh in big league circles one of these days, if young Roger (above) lives up to his family name. Peckinpaugh, the son of a former major league star now manager of the Cleveland Indians, is considered a likely candidate for the diamond nine at Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, O., where he is a sophomore.

Moore-Masson High In Shoot

Moore and Masson with 190 scores out of possible 200, were deadlocked for the lead in the New Castle Rifle club shoot held last night at the Carbon Concrete Brick Co. plant range at Hillsville. Other high scorers were—Mulcahy 188, Harper 186, Fullerton 186, Penella 186 and Nixon 185. Quite a number of ties will be shot off on Friday night of this week at the range.

The match was in four positions: prone, sitting, kneeling and standing.

High Track Men Anxious To Begin

With a warm sunny day prevailing the New Castle High track and field candidates looked anxiously at Coach Bill Klee today. They want to get started on the cinder path. A few more days of the weather on hand today and the boys will be permitted to go out of doors and start burning up the records.

There is a little too much frost in the ground yet to start actual out-door training.

Hot Mills Will Meet St. Mary's Thursday Night

Strong Beaver Falls Team Will Be Feature At Shelby Tomorrow

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 23.—The Hot Mills, winners of the Shelby league and recognized city champions will play their final game tomorrow evening when they will engage the strong St. Mary's team of Beaver Falls at the hands of the invaders. The Hot Mills failed to make an impression at that time but are now more than ever determined to upset the Beaver Falls team.

The local quint has been training faithfully for this contest. The team hopes to close its season with a victory and thus avenge an earlier defeat at Beaver Falls at the hands of the invaders. The Hot Mills failed to make an impression at that time but are now more than ever determined to upset the Beaver Falls team.

At this game two former team mates will be opposing each other. Tach, center for the St. Mary's quint and Fitzgerald, captain and guard of the local team, were members of the Manhattan team of Ellwood City which was entered in the Allegheny league last winter. The Hot Mills base their hopes on a victory because of the fact that they defeated the Caul's of Ambridge by whom the St. Mary's were decisively defeated.

Regardless of the proposed outcome a fine crowd is expected to witness this final tussle. The game will begin at 8:15.

Mrs. Clair Cummins Hostess To Class

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 23.—The girls' class of the Ellport Presbyterian church, taught by Mrs. Jacob Culp, met at the home of Mrs. Clair Cummins of Ellport last evening for their regular monthly meeting.

At a recent meeting the class was organized and the name Mayflower Girls was chosen. Their aim is "One More" and their class song, "Win the One Next to You". An informal social period was enjoyed with bingo being the main diversion, with Miss Margaret Pavuk presiding and the prize award. The birthdays of two members, Helen Konyak and Irene Miskolsky, were celebrated at the meeting.

At a late hour the guests were invited into the dining room, where a lovely scene greeted them. At one long table places were marked for 12. The table was prettily adorned with orange and yellow streamers and was centered with a large birthday cake and Easter baskets marking each place. Mrs. Cummins was assisted in serving by Mrs. Culp.

Those present were Mary Majors, Margaret Pavuk, Katherine Pavuk, Alberta Wicks, Dorothy Rough, Mary Mosko, Laura Price, Irene Miskolsky, Margaret Partridge, Viola Saniato, Helen Konyak and Olga Kosko.

Mrs. Wm. L. Cosel Speaks To Kiwanis

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 23.—Members of the Ellwood City Kiwanis club thoroughly enjoyed a most interesting talk by Mrs. William L. Cosel of New Castle, who was a delegate of the Women's club at the Paris Peace conference recently, last night in the Trinity Lutheran church. There was a fine representation of members present.

The speaker told of the purpose of the conference at Paris which was to have a general discussion on Peace and Disarmaments before the conference was scheduled to convene. Mrs. Cosel gave a first hand account of the conference and gave her ideas on World peace.

Innocenti Guilty On Driving Charge

Fred Innocenti of near Ellport was found guilty following a trial before Judge R. L. Hildebrand on a charge of driving a horse-drawn vehicle while under the influence of liquor and driving without lights.

Innocenti denied that he was under the influence of liquor and claimed that he had a flashlight which he alternately flashed front and back to warn motorists. He was arrested in Ellport after Constable H. J. Jenkins of Ellwood City had ditched his car in order to avoid a collision.

Ellwood Driver Held For Court

BEAVER FALLS, Mar. 23.—Charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, driving without a driver's license, and with improper owner's card, Richard Santelli, 35, Ellwood City, was committed to the county jail in default of a $500 bail, when he was arraigned before Justice of the Peace J. Walter Lewis. Santelli, it will be remembered, was arrested by local police Sunday afternoon after he had eluded arrest in Ellwood City.

To Hold Union Service In U. P. Church Tonight

M. E. Church Will Be Scene Of Services On Thursday Evening

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 23.—The third union services in this city for holy week as planned by the Ministerial association will take place in the U. P. church this evening with Rev. C. F. Christiansen, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church in charge. Rev. Christiansen is chairman of the committee which arranged this event.

The final union service will be held in the M. E. church on Thursday evening at which time Rev. H. D. K. Huber will speak. On Friday most of the local churches are having separate programs.

The Young People's early morning services will continue through Easter morning.

Service Club Meets At Ellport Home

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 23.—A delightful event of Tuesday evening was held at the home of Mrs. Clifford Vinroe of Ellport when she pleasantly entertained the members of the Women's Service club at their regular monthly meeting.

At the business meeting routine matters were transacted and plans for future activities arranged. An informal social period with games and contests of a wide variety occupied the hours with Mrs. Victor Koach and Mrs. Ralph Stanfield winning the awards. Mrs. Martin Felen, Mrs. Laura Weller and Mrs. Tessie Hill was in charge of the entertainment.

At a late hour the guests were ushered into the dining room where they were served a delicious luncheon by Mrs. Stella Powell, Mrs. Charles Gallagher, Mrs. Robert Calahan and the hostess, who were dressed in fancy caps and aprons. The home as well as the table was artistically decorated with colors and novelties suggestive of the Easter season. The table was prettily centered with a bowl of lilies.

The next meeting will be held in April with the meeting place to be announced later.

Plans For Rally Made At Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 23.—At their regular meeting last night the Junior P. H. C. of this city discussed and formulated plans for the Junior P. H. C. rally to be held in New Castle by Mercer and Lawrence counties. Also plans for a dance to be held on April 12 here were made. The rally is scheduled to take place on April 20. The remainder of the evening was enjoyed in a social manner at the K. of P. hall.

Schools Close For Easter Vacation

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 23.—If people hear a sudden furor about the community this afternoon they need not be alarmed for it is only a sign that the Ellwood City schools have closed for the Easter holidays. Special Easter programs were held in all schools today. Teachers were doubly thankful for they also received their pay checks which will further enable them to enjoy the holidays. All school children were dismissed at 2:30 this afternoon.

Sports Hold-Up

Virginia Mann, five-foot, ninety-pound athlete of Houston, Texas, is shown being "held up" by her six-foot, five-inch playmate, Alice Humbarger, an equally well-known athlete of the Lone Star State. Miss Humbarger weighs 165 pounds and is a veteran of five years of basketball. Her little pal is the leading amateur outboard motorboat racer of the district.

Roma Club Has Regular Meeting

Mrs. William Ketterer Is Pleasing Hostess To Club Members

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 23.—With delightful hospitality Mrs. William Ketterer received the members of the Roma Club at her home on Pershing avenue. There were two special guests present at the time, who were Mrs. Clifford McDaniel and Mrs. Max Ewing.

Bridge was the principal diversion of the evening, with three tables at play. Mrs. Preston Rollan and Mrs. J. C. Beegie received the club awards at the close of the close of the games and Mrs. McDaniel the guest favor. Lunch was served at a later hour by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Ewing. The next meeting will take place in two weeks, at the home of Mrs. Frank Huffman.

No Name Club Has Meeting Tuesday

Miss Clara Ritchey Is Hostess To Club Members At Regular Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 23.—Miss Clara Ritchey entertained the members of the No Name Club last night at her home on Lawrence avenue. Two tables of bridge occupied the attention of the guests for the evening, at which Miss Martha Sisley and Miss Emily Pitzer received the high score favors.

At an appointed hour the hostess served a delicious repast in the surroundings of Easter appointments. Miss Elizabeth McCracken invited the club to meet again at her home in two weeks.

Brother Of Local People Dies Monday

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 23.—An announcement has been received here of the death of W. J. Smith, 78, who suddenly passed away at his home in San Luis Obispo, Cal., Monday, March 21, after an illness of a few days.

He was the eldest son of the late James and Rose Morrison Smith, pioneer residents of Perry township. He attended and taught in the Wurttemberg schools and was also a graduate of Swathmore university. For the past fifty years he has been a well-known and highly respected general contractor in California.

He was preceded in death by his wife twelve years ago. Immediate survivors are one son, Marion of San Luis Obispo; three brothers, Frank of Aztec, N. Mex., Ross of Pleasant Hill, James of the Ellwood-Portersville road, and one sister, Miss Mary A. Smith of the Ellwood-Portersville road. One brother, Samuel, preceded him in death several years ago.

SUNRISE SERVICES

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 23.—Attendance at the sunrise services being held each morning in the M. E. church is increasing. About 300 people were present at the services this morning. These services, which begin at 7:15 and continuing until 7:45 a. m., are being sponsored by all the local churches.

Thomas Wilson conducted the devotional period this morning and Rev. A. M. Stevenson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, gave an address on The Day of Retirement. Rev. E. E. Coughley will be in charge of the services Thursday morning, with Faye Gallagher conducting the devotional period.

TO PREACH HERE

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 23.—Paul Nye of this city, who is attending the Richmond University in Virginia, is expected home at North Sewickley for a short Easter vacation. Paul is a member of the Providence Baptist church and a student for the ministry. He will preach morning and evening in the First Baptist church of Ellwood City.

HOLY WEEK SERVICES

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 23.—Rev. R. H. Little, pastor of the First M. E. church, was in charge of the services being held at the Wurttemberg church this week last evening. A large number of members were in attendance. This evening Rev. Louis J. Wallis, pastor of the New Brighton church, will conduct the services. There will be special vocal and instrumental music.

CHEWTON

NEW YORK STOCKS

Better Industrial News Brings Rally In Market

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, March 23.—Better news from industry came to the stock market's support today and brought rallying tendencies after early irregularity.

Car loadings, swelled by a sharp pick-up in coal, reached the year's high in the week ended March 12, and the steel trade reviews predicted an upturn in operations in the next two weeks, basing the forecast on a rise in automobile production.

Pressure of American Telephone was again the unsettling influence in the first hour but the stock showed resistance around yesterday's low. This brought renewal of buying throughout the list and leading stocks came back to around last night's close.

U. S. Steel was especially active, reflecting the optimism of the trade reviews. General Electric held within a narrow range, its official earnings report of $133 a share for 1931 being the same as that announced when the dividend was reduced several years ago.

Copper stocks failed to maintain the gains of yesterday's closing spurt and slipped back to their lows. Price changes in the oils were insignificant despite the rise in production for the week.

Commodities were featured by a spurt in sugar futures and better action of wheat.

Oh, Hi Syc! How Awfully Jolly!

Scenes of the greatest excitement greeted the news in London's financial district that the Bank of England had decided to reduce the bank rate from five to four per cent, marking the first gleam of sunshine to burst through the cloud of depression that overhung the English capital. Note the silk-hatted bank messengers, some with special guards, scurrying forth to spread the glad tidings.

To Be Dedicated This Spring

Bearing a striking resemblance to the National Capitol at Washington, the beautiful new State Capitol of West Virginia, which stands on the banks of the Kanawha River at Charleston, is rapidly nearing completion. The building, which is to be dedicated this Spring, cost $9,000,000. Its interior is elaborately decorated in Vermont marble.

Crusading Honeymooners

This picture of a leading "wet" in an arid land, shows Fred G. Clark with his bride, the former Sybil E. Young, of New York, honeymooning among the cactuses at Palm Springs, Cal. Clark, president of the Cleveland, Ohio, oil company bearing his name, is head of the "Crusaders," an organization which is waging a militant campaign for the repeal of prohibition.

Goes Agolfing

Miss Polly Potter, well known in New York social circles, goes agolfing in a popular South Carolina resort.

An Old Friend in Need

An interesting sidelight of the depression is this resurrection of the old bicycle built for two. Times being so hard, Mr. and Mrs. Lucas, of Norwood, South Australia, found themselves unable to maintain their automobile, so up from the cellar came the ancient vehicle with which they are shown. Despite the obviously sunny day their umbrella is carried as a precaution against the elements there being no "one-man" top on the old wheel.

Scene of Texas Oil Fire

Here is $400,000 going up in smoke in these depressing days when every dollar counts. Photo was made during the recent fire at the Wilcox Oil and Gas Company's refinery at Pampa, Texas, which resulted in possibly fatal injuries to four men and the destruction of the refinery with 40,000 barrels of naphtha and gasoline. Oil trickling from a hot boiler and catching fire is believed to have caused the explosion that started the blaze.

Total Loss—Passengers Safe

This air view shows the Canadian National Steamship Co.'s "Prince David," which ran on a reef off the Northeast Breakers, Bermuda, during a blinding rainstorm. When the craft began to founder the 84 passengers she carried were transferred to a sister ship, the "Lady Somers," which took them into Hamilton, Bermuda. Though there was no loss of life, the "Prince David" is a total loss.

Railroad Man
Dies At Warren

Former Local Resident Who Was Hurt In Accident On Railroad, Dies

Warren Chilress of Niles, O., who was critically injured in a railroad accident a week ago, passed away Monday night in the Warren City hospital, according to news received by friends here. Chilress was a former New Castle resident, having resided on Wabash avenue.

In the company of James Calvert of Cherry street, New Castle, George Meade of Niles and Arthur O'Neal of Ravenna, O., the fatally injured man was thrown from an overturning trailer which had broken away from a railroad motor car. The pin had dropped from the coupling and the trailer left the B. & O. tracks near McDonald, O. With the exception of Chilress, the riders of the trailer were not seriously injured.

MODERN SCIENCE CONFIRMS OLD WORLD RELIEF

It has long been the experience of people in the Old World that medicinal plants and herbs are useful to mankind only when grown in their natural state, and gathered at the proper seasons of the year. This simple truth has been largely overlooked by the makers of ordinary American medicines. This is part of the reason why World's Tonic stands in a class by itself. This remarkable new scientific preparation follows the old World idea exactly. Here is a statement which explains the thought more fully:

"I came to America from Sweden," explained Mr. Andrew Olsson, of Farrell, Pa., to the World's Tonic representative. "I worked in the steel mill there and it was easy for me to get a job in the steel mills here in America. Our whole family had been steel workers for many generations, and we had always had splendid health. I was as strong as a bull when I started at the McKeesport mill. I could handle my job and another fellow's too, and I liked it. But after about two years I began to break down. I had cough and stomach trouble at the same time. The catarrh poisoned my stomach and killed my appetite. I had sharp pains after eating and had to take physics every night to get my bowels to move. I lost weight and, by and by, I got so weak that they laid me off at the mill. I sat around the house and spent my savings on useless so-called remedies and got sicker all the time.

"Then I met the World's Tonic representative. He explained to me that I was just like a transplanted tree, dying in strange soil. He said that World's Tonic is made from plants and herbs brought from different parts of the world and it could help replace what was lacking in my system. He also said that every root and herb used in World's Tonic was gathered in its natural state, and at its right and proper season, according to the long experience of wise people in the old countries. I realized that this was common sense. I tried World's Tonic at once, and right away I got the good results common sense always brings. I was better from the first dose. In little over a month I was as well as ever, back on the job and making good money. Nowadays I always keep World's Tonic on hand and I keep well and strong all the time like my folks back in Sweden."

School's New 7B's Awaiting Welcome

Youngest At Washington Hi
Will Take To Stage,
Chapel Tomorrow

A new group of 7B pupils at the George Washington Junior high school, transferred to the building in the mid-term promotion from the grade schools, will make their dramatic bow to their school mates in a special chapel tomorrow.

Thursday afternoon's assembly at 3 o'clock will be devoted entirely to a program prepared by the 7B's. Miss Elizabeth Glover, dramatic instructor is directing arrangements.

Cooperating with her are the three class supervisors, Miss Anne Aiken, Miss Sara Patterson and Miss Frances Haydon.

The following program will be carried out:

Devotionals—Sara Wilson.
Solo dance—Jean DeLillo.
Play, "In the Good Old Days".
Characters: Great Aunt Abby, Naomi Kennedy;

Geat Uncle Ezra, Jimmie Woods; Priscilla, Helen Uram; Terry, Jennie Houston; Neighbor Durham, Billy Batten; Father Time, Bob McNeill and Hour Glass, Cliff Pector.

Indian dances—Jean Wise, Fred Allen Dick Brundage, Betty Bloomer Joan Thompson, Pauline Lynch, Myrtle Buney, Bob Cartwright, Betty Jane Hulin, William Anthony, Grace Miles and Louis Pearsall.

STEAL GOOD TIRE: REPLACE IT WITH WORN OUT CASING

C. E. Carnes, of 206 1/2 South Rav street, reported today that he had discovered that while his car was parked on his property overnight someone had removed a fine tire from one of the wheels and replaced it with one that was practically worn out.

He drove the car for several hours before he discovered that the change had been made.

This is the second time that such a trick has been carried out at his expense, and he is very eager to locate the thief.

Swick Bill Asks
Delay On Willow Grove Structure

Measure Passed By House, Advances Date Of Start To March 2, 1933

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent
Of The New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 23.—The House of Representatives on Monday afternoon passed the Swick bill to permit postponement of commencement of construction of the proposed bridge across the Mahoning river just south of New Castle at Willow Grove.

Under legislation passed last year authorizing the State Highway Department to build the bridge, it was specified that the structure be commenced no later than March 2, 1932 and completed not later than March 2, 1935. Delays occurred, however, and early this session Representative J. Howard Swick introduced a bill which advanced the date of commencement to March 2, 1933 and the date of completion to March 2, 1936.

The House on Monday approved this measure and it now goes to the Senate for consideration. Mr. Swick is confident that the bill will be approved by the Senate without any great delay.

OUR BEST FRIEND

Is one to whom our virtues appear larger than our faults.
Is one who can be trusted to care for our reputation in our absence.
Is one who does not make friendship dependent on an explanation.
Is one who can visit with us in silence, and still understand.
Is one for whom friendship is an opportunity, not a duty.
Is one who thinks the best of us when he hears the worst.
Is one who refuses to put his friendship on a cash basis.

Dinner Stories

TRUE!
"You see that old man over there?"

"Yes."

"His name is a household word. 'Really, who is he?'"

"Mr. Smith."

A Christian land is one where opic support colleges to destroy faith they have taught their children.

Council Staff To Talk New Problems

Boy Scout Commissioners' Confab To Occur Thursday In C. Of C. Rooms

The commissioners' staff of the Lawrence county council, Boy Scouts of America, will hold its regular monthly meeting in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, Greer building, at 7:30 o'clock on Thursday evening, March 24.

Commissioner Ralph F. Davis will preside and work of the past month will be checked. An important feature of the meeting will be the start of a commissioners' training course so these men may be better fitted for their work.

Staff members include Commissioner R. F. Davis, District Commissioner Jack Pearson and these special field commissioners: Harold McCulloch and Dr. J. A. Gillespie and Neighborhood Commissioners Harry Cullford, Elden Danner, Owen P. Fox, F. L. Herbert, H. M. Kirk Jr., A. R. McCoy, Dr. T. J. McPate, Ed. O. Raney and Elmer T. Tinsman.

Science has now found a way to vaccinate you against nearly all plagues except patriotism.

Members of the Order of the Builders of the New Castle chapter announced today that one of the group's most important meetings will occur in the east lodge room of the Cathedral tonight, with Master John Thompson presiding.

The Builders here are planning a new drive to restore the inactive members to the active column again and tonight's session will be a forerunner to this campaign.

VALUATION DROPS
IN MERCER COUNTY

MERCER, Pa., Mar. 23.—Mercer county's valuation for 1932 totals $60,000,000 is the today announcement of the commissioners. The amount is $1,000,000 short of the 1931 assessment the records of the office show.

The depreciation in taxation is listed in manufactures, town and rural property. The officials state that all properties are showing the results of the depression.
